We the student body of Shadle Park High School reflect a special something in our own special way which can't be explained on paper, in a book or even verbally. It's something you have to experience, appreciate and feel. It's the Highlander Spirit, a Spirit that has made us #1, not only in the eyes of the public, but in the hearts of every Highlander.

This yearbook is dedicated to you the Highlanders of Shadle Park High School. As you look at these pictures, read these stories and remember this past 1984-85 school year may your hearts be filled with the treasured memories of the year we spent together In Our Special Way.

The Sporran Staff

In our special way . . .

We fight,

we win,

we lose . . .

Whether we win or lose is not all that important as long as we fight to do our best and know inside that we are still #1.

In our special way . . .

We dream,

we conquer,

we accomplish

We as Highlanders are constantly making dreams for ourselves and when we finally make those dreams become reality we have a special pride we feel for that particular accomplishment.

In our special way . . .

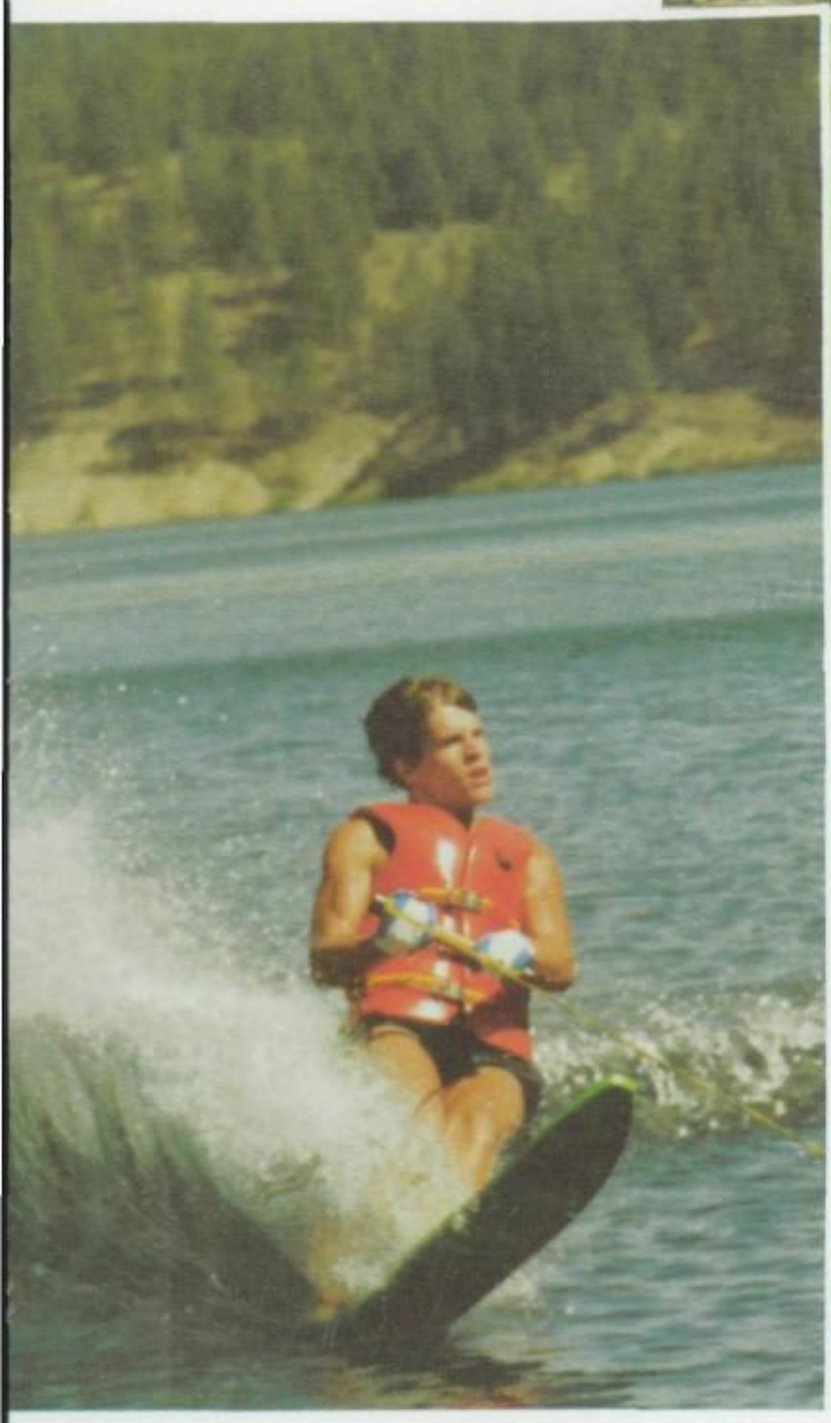
We make friends
share special times,
and create memories

It takes one crazy lunch period in the commons, one football game with friends or one Friday night to create a memory. Special times and friends they're one in the same. Constantly creating memories we'll treasure forever.

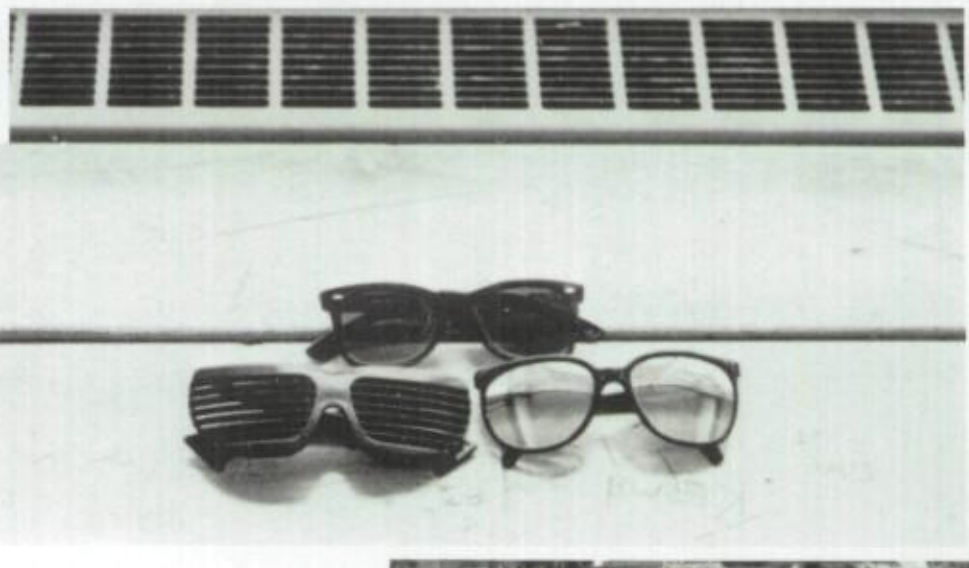
Student Life

Summer life

When the final school bell of the year rings, students everywhere fill their minds with the thoughts of sunshine, lakesides, summer camps and jobs, and the fun that goes with these things! This past summer held the usual activities such as cheerleading cheer camp, ASB leadership camp and Yearbook, journalism camp. Highlanders who aren't traveling about can usually be found at work at their fun-filled jobs, at McDonald's, clothes stores or movie theaters, or water skiing, "hunk hunting," or just basking in the sunshine at the various beaches in the surrounding area. Then there is the ever famous drive-in theaters. Teenagers thrive in the films they show at these theaters. Things like "The Texas Chainsaw Massacre," "Pirannha II," or "Breakin," Why? Summer is also notorious for inspiring hundreds of summer loves. Whether it will be a handsome Italian you might meet on a cruise or the guy or girl you've got your eye on at work, these summer flings always promise to fill the warm summer nights with fun and romance. But summer, like all good things, had to come to an end and like summers before the past one, left us with many happy and warm memories to get us through the school year.



Fads are changing all the time. Some go out as fast as they come in and some stay for a long time. But then that's part of the fun isn't it? Deciding what's in and saving the money to buy it before it goes out is the challenge, and all of it is part of living life our own special way.



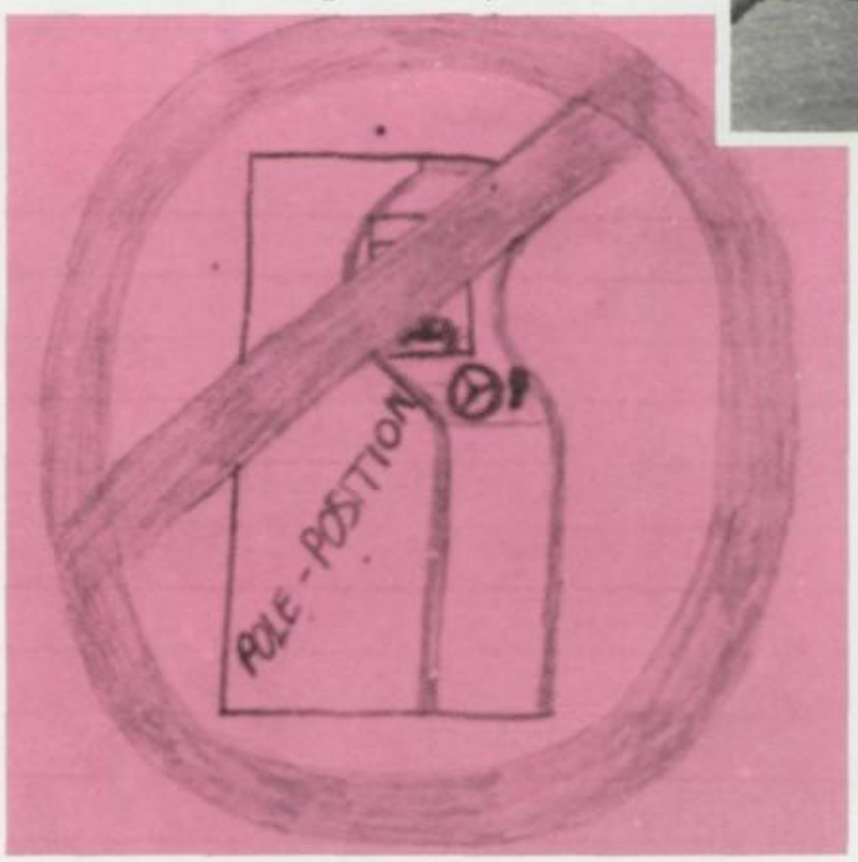
You're walking dowtown and here come the lust of your life. Wait! Is he staring? You can't tell because he's wearing varney's. The mirrored lens were very popular last summer. Tinted lens were and venetian blinds were too, but they didn't offer the staring privacy that the mirrored lens did.

Purple Rain was a popular and exciting movie. Prince is a "must" with his suggestive dancing in the movie. Some people were turned off but then they shouldn't have been there in the first place. Ghostbusters and Karate Kid came in behind and both movies were hits of 84.

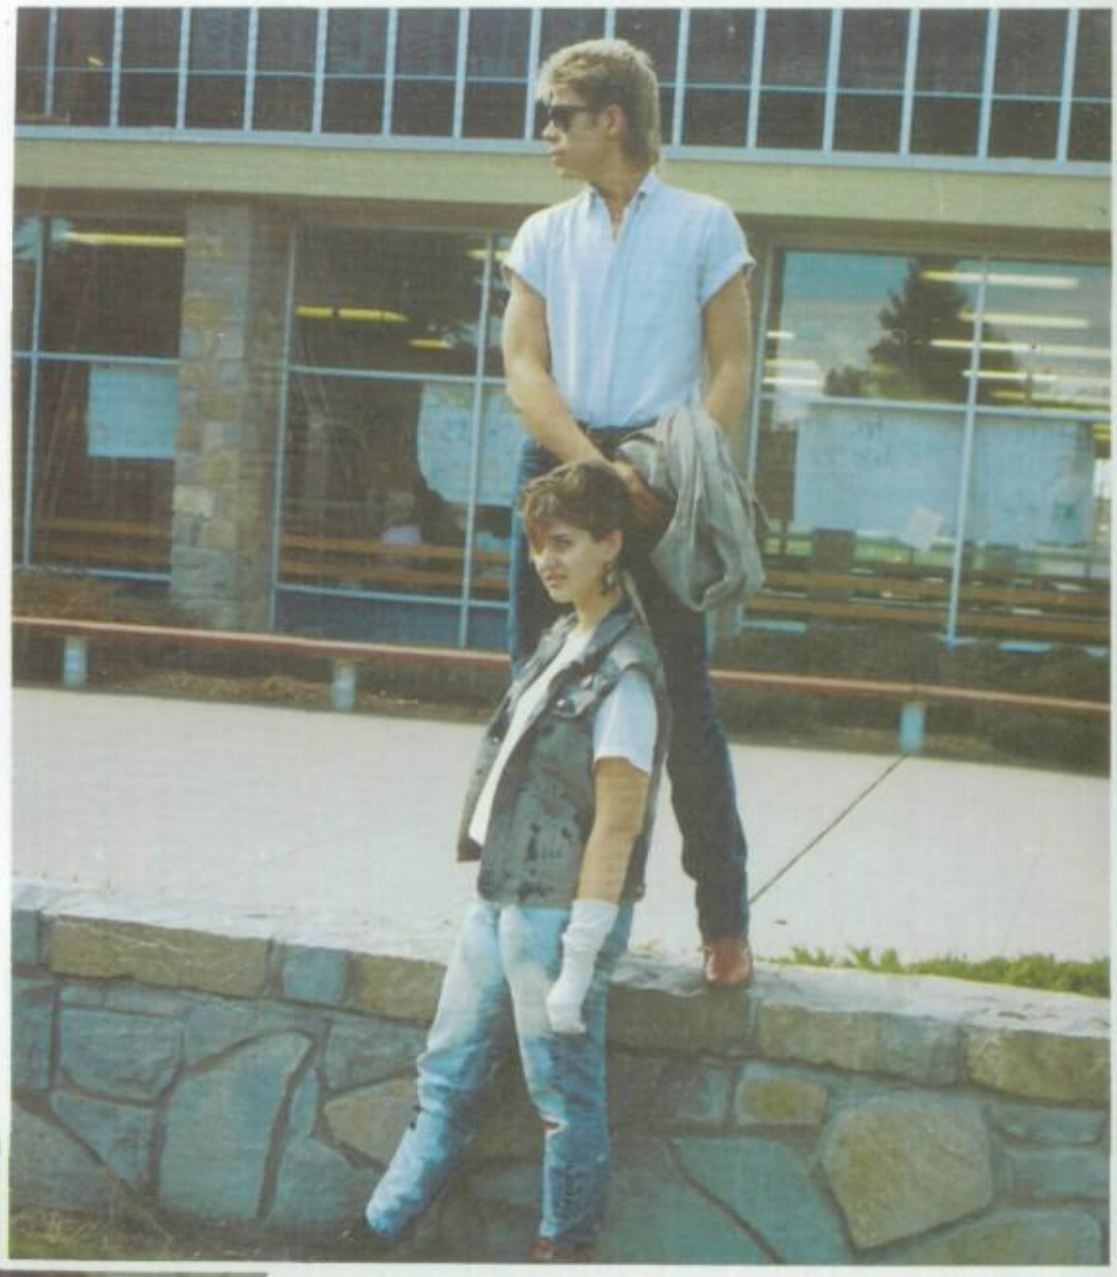
Hairstyles became outrageous, and included the "bob" brought back from the 40's. The in look seems to be dying your hair and growing a tail. Short hair is in.

Last year Michael Jackson was a phenomenon. He was even on the cover of Time. But his "Jacksonmania" was his downfall. Jackson T-shirts, gloves, books, folders stickers, etc. was enough to make anyone want to just "beat it". Too bad because his music left its mark.

Breakdancing may well be the most unique fad of 84. Crowds would gather to watch the "breakers" and "breakin" music hit all the charts. It took talent, agility, coordination and a big "box" to perform.

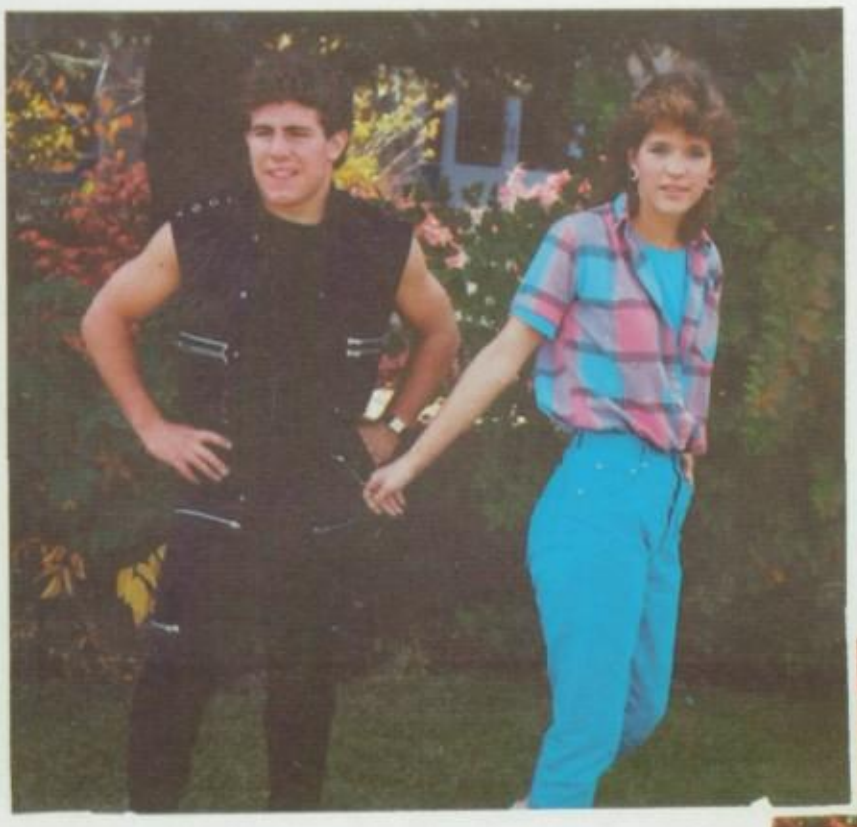


Video games turned out to be expensive habits and after the newness wore off and the mania lessened then reality came back. You were either totally into them or not in it at all.

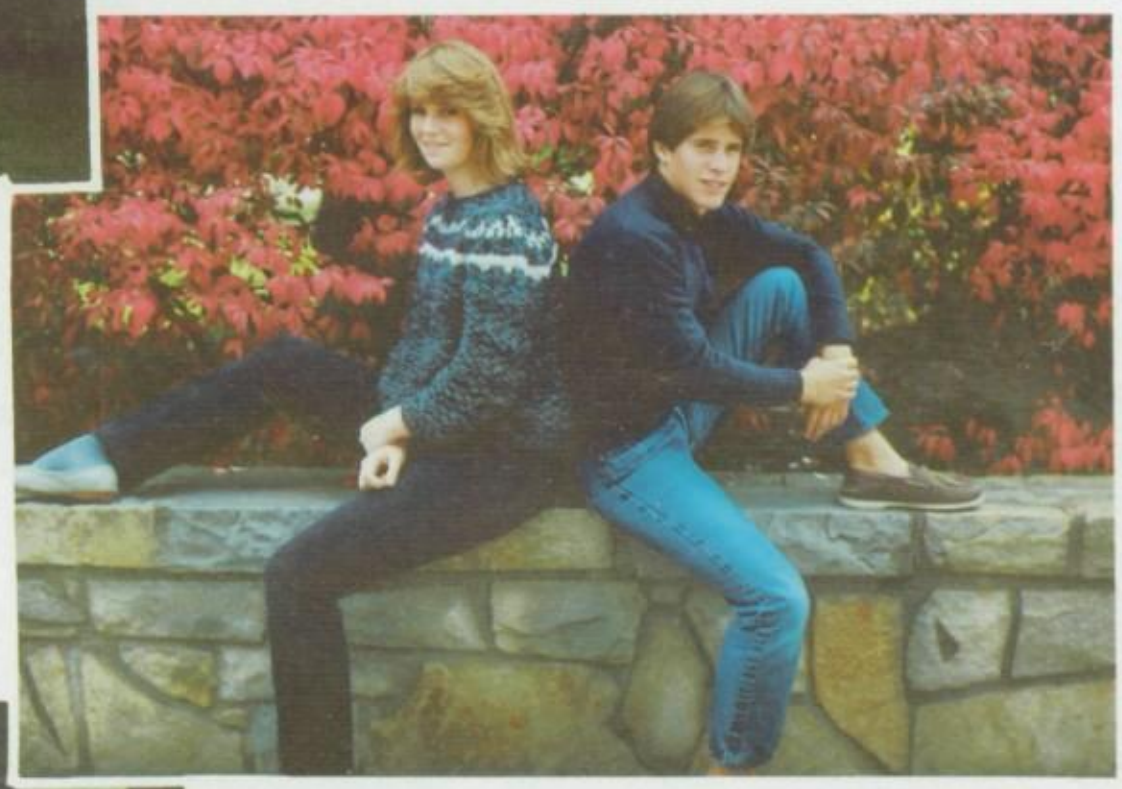


This year's fashions opened up new and unique horizons for the average high school student. There's no such thing as traditional garb anymore. This season the clothing is exciting and fun and offers that special look for everyone.

Some of the top runners in style this year are stonewashed jeans, crop pants, levis and jeans with multi-pocketed and zippers. Accessories also play a big part in making any outfit appear original. These accessories include plastic shoes, top siders, fish hook earrings that hung down on your shoulders double and triple wrap belts and plastic costume jewelry.



If sophistication was the look you were striving for, it was tweed jackets and oxfords for the guys and wool skirts with crew neck sweaters for the girls. Loafers for both completed the look.



Other fashion wear included the "punk" or new wave look; leather could be seen throughout the halls at Shadle Park. An occasional chain belt added that special something to the outfit.

You couldn't go wrong this year with the variety of styles that were in. Freedom of choice was the main goal for everyone in the fashion world.

Homecoming . . . a time for laughter and celebration. And the second annual Homecoming week was no exception. It was a week for showing our spirit, our pride and our Highlander pizazz. For six senior girls the week was all of that and more. Princesses Debi Cool, Shana Dickson, Jo Howes, Lisa Lowther, Kathy O'Shields and Paula Shill, were chosen by the student body as the second annual Homecoming royalty. They were escorted onto the stage at the con and the title was presented to Lisa Lowther. Shortly before the honor was bestowed upon Queen Lisa, homecoming judges chose Don Santos as Homecoming King after he performed a breathtaking remake of Michael Jackson's "THRILLER." Other candidates were Phil Folsum, Erik Jokinen, Sam Otterstrom, Dave Rypien and Scott Stevens who performed such acts as a stripping cowboy and a Funky Chicken.

Homecoming week held excitement for all who participated with dress up days, class competitions and a barbeque on Thursday. Dress-up days included Pajama Day, Moviestar Day, Dressy Clothes Day, Value Village Day and Spirit Day. The day of the big game finally arrived and classes began working on decorating cars and trucks to carry a princess and her escort across the field at halftime. The cars, or floats as they were called, were proudly displayed by all at the car rally at Skaggs parking lot. Class of '87 won with their decorated truck. The cheerleaders built up spirit and soon everyone piled into their cars to go to the football game where the Highlanders did their best to defeat the Indians. After the game Highlanders, young and old, danced the night away at the dance entitled a "Green and Gold Celebration." Homecoming was a week filled with special times and memories that will live in the minds of Highlanders forever.

Gimme a Break. McDonald's is the place to be on Friday nights after a game or Saturday night after a crazy event with the gang.

Social life begins at Dick's. Fast friends and cheap food or is it . . .?

Hangin out where it's in It's 11:00 Friday night do you know where your classmates are? Chances are good they're at one of the "in" hangouts.

No one can pass up the tantalizing temptation of McDonald's french fries and hamburgers and who could resist the inevitable food fight and sense of accomplishment we all feel when the management gets so mad they throw us out the door.

If that sounds a bit too mellow, Dick's might be more your style with its main attractions being leather, switchblades and an occasional drug bust. It guarantees cultural diversification.

On your way home you might take the scenic route down Riverside; that is if you didn't borrow mommy and daddy's station wagon which sports a bumper sticker reading "Stay clear, my rear is near." While you're cruisin you can pick up some important information such as where the hottest parties are and the phone number of the cute little item in the red Corvette.

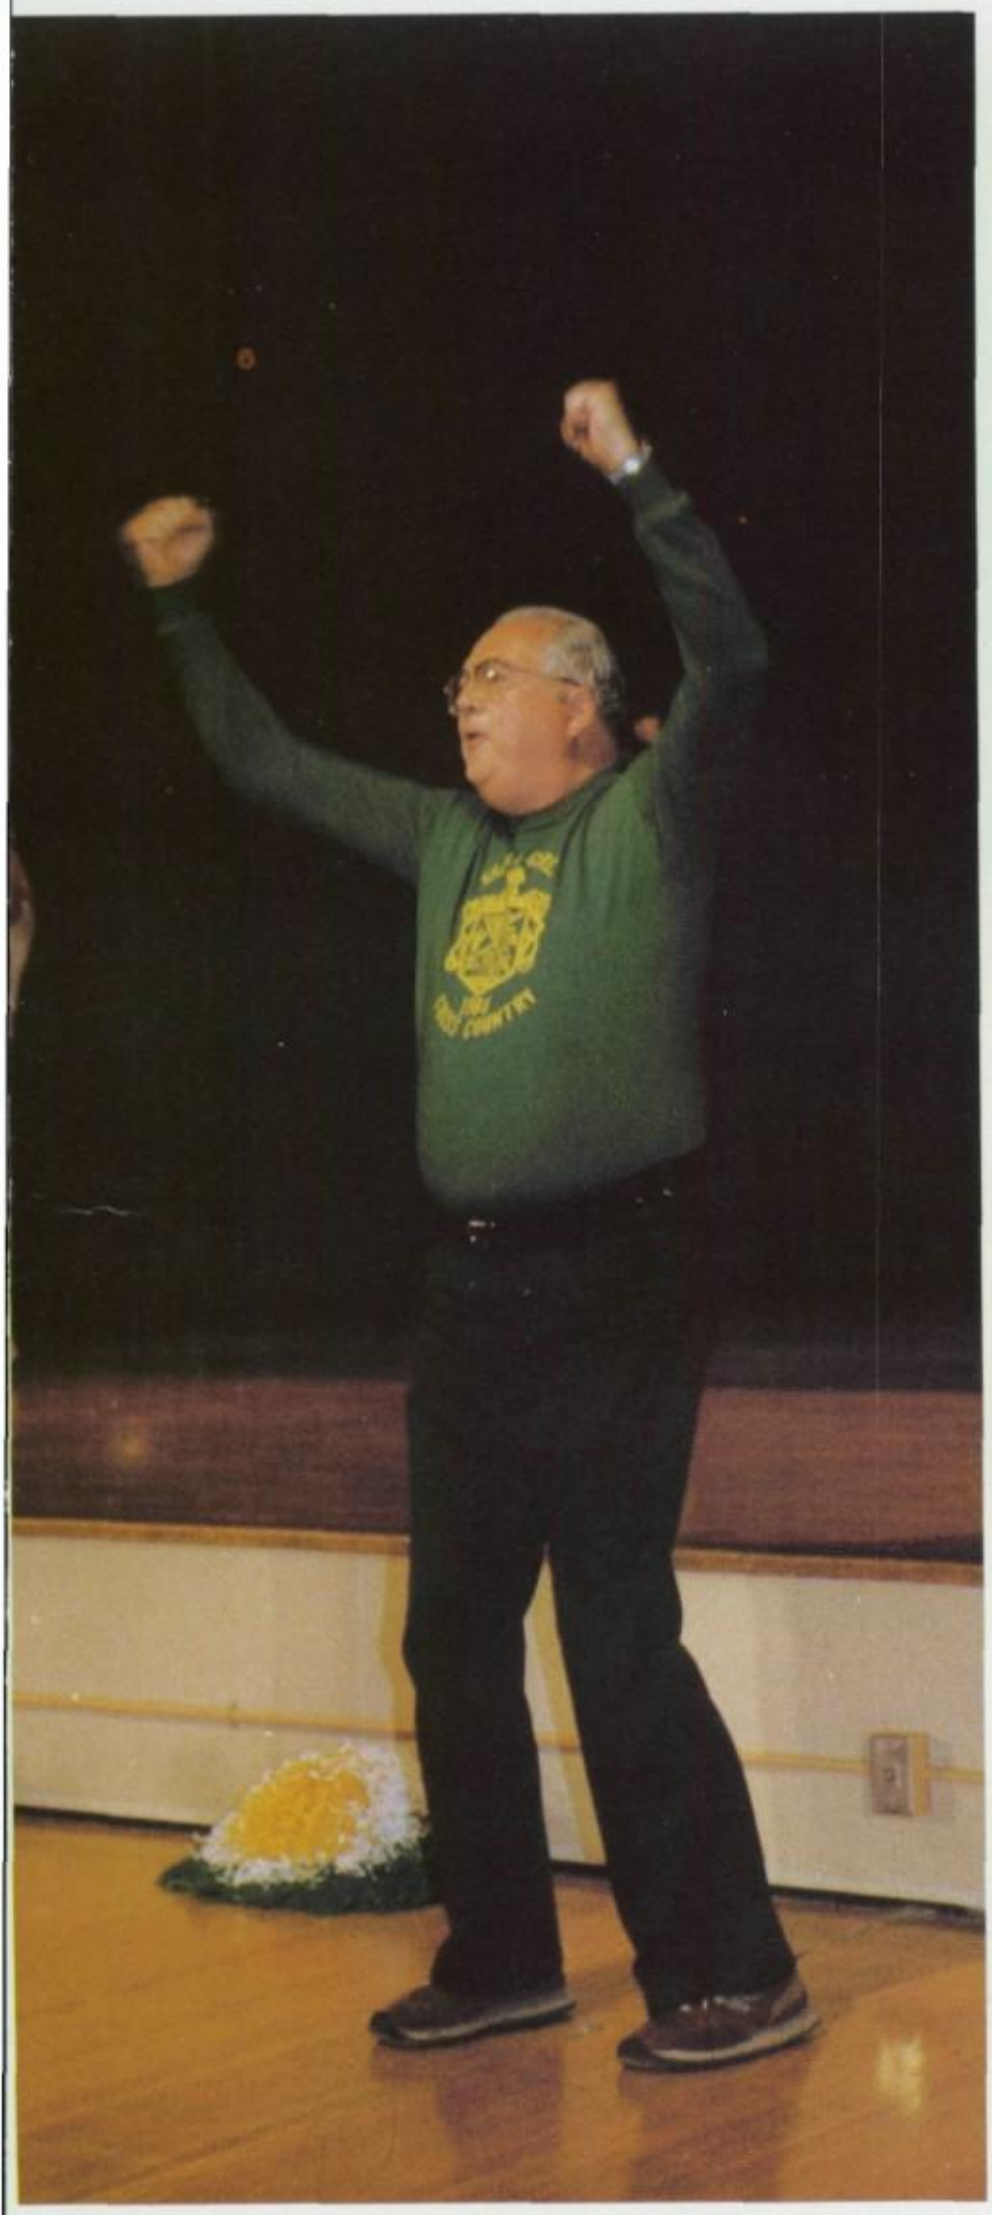
However, none of the above should be attempted without a car. Didn't your parents ever warn you? It's dangerous to walk the streets after dark???

"McThank You. Come again," says Andra Care to Mike Stewart who grabs a quick snack after school.

Downtown Spokane — Riverfront Park and Riverside are a few of the teenage traps where Highlanders hangout.

TRADITIONS

The uniqueness of our Piper and Highland Dancers, who have been performing the traditional Scotland the Brave since Shadle first opened up, have kept the special feeling of spirit and pride inside of us through the years.



C'mon and go Hawaiian! Highlanders keep a Shadle tradition with their Hawaiian attire.

Hey! We're on film. The photographer captures the Varsity volleyball team as they ring the Victory Bell.

One cheer that seems to have caught on at Shadle Park is "Chickalocka." It is usually performed by a rather "large cheerleader" between the 3rd and 4th quarters of a football, basketball or volleyball game.

Historically the cheer goes back at least to the early part of the century. In 1912 a slightly different version of the cheer was performed at Granger High School.

"My acquaintance with it goes back to my high school days at Lincoln High School in Tacoma in the 1940's. It was a fairly popular cheer at that time even though it had and still has, its irrational overtones, said Evan Bell, Mr. Chickalacka.

The cheer was introduced at Shadle Park in 1968. "I taught it to one of our exuberant cheerleaders," related Bell, "and the following week she had yours truly do it at a pep con. The rest is history."

We're still #1 even when the chicks are down.

Cheer Kings of 1985.

What are you looking at? I hope you're not laughing at my dress!

Shadle Park is unlike any other school. When you think of Shadle, the first thing that comes to your mind is tradition. Shadle Park is a school fullof traditions. It's not only the people at Shadle that makes it so special to everyone; it's our plaid and it's our dancers that stands out above the rest. It's our friendships and our bagpipes that make Shadle better than the average school.

Not only do we have support for each other at Shadle, but there's a place for everyone as a Highlander no matter what you do.

You get a special feeling inside as you tell someone you're a Highlander. This makes you so proud to wear green and gold. Just knowing that you are a part of Shadle's traditions gives you a strong sense of pride.

And then there's that unmistakable Shadle spirit. If you've ever been to a football or basketball game, you've seen the Spell-Out. Spell-Out is a tradition done only to Senior girls who have lettered. It consists of five spirited senior girls who are energetic and like to be the center of attention. As you watch the spelling out of Shadle you watch SP turn into #1 which represents what Shalde is all about.

Have you ever had the chance to ring the victory bell? If you did, you'll probably never forget the incredible feeling of accomplishment when you hear the loud clang.

SP means spirit and pride to all Highlanders.

SPIRIT

Just a typical day

When most of us think of a typical day at school, we have visions of sitting through lectures, falling asleep in class, taking tests, flunking tests, going to lunch, getting sick after lunch and then going home. This is the world of high school reality.

There are those other days though when everything is in chaos, such as when we have spirit cons and dress-up days. The cons have an unleashing effect on the student body and everyone "goes bananas." The rest of the afternoon is usually spent trying to prove which class is really "best" with class competitions and chanting.

Dress-up days give everyone a chance to show how creative they can be. The favorite form of attire is undoubtedly the famed "Nerd" outfit. Who could resist plaid pants and striped shirts and maybe an occasional purple polka dotted tie?

Shadle Park is just like any other high school in the good ole U.S. of A. with one exception — the people. They possess the ability to make even the most uneventful day funfilled and exciting. The students make Shadle the special place it is.

Reaching out and touching someone. Doing what she does best is Shannon Horn.

Kilt capers. Kenny Lindsey, super sucker salesman, finds a couple of willing customers.

Famous last words. Laura Parker attempts old saying unsuccessfully in one of Shadle's pep cons. "It's not the size of the fight in the dog. It's the size of the dog in the fight, or —uh —uh . . .

The Dating Game

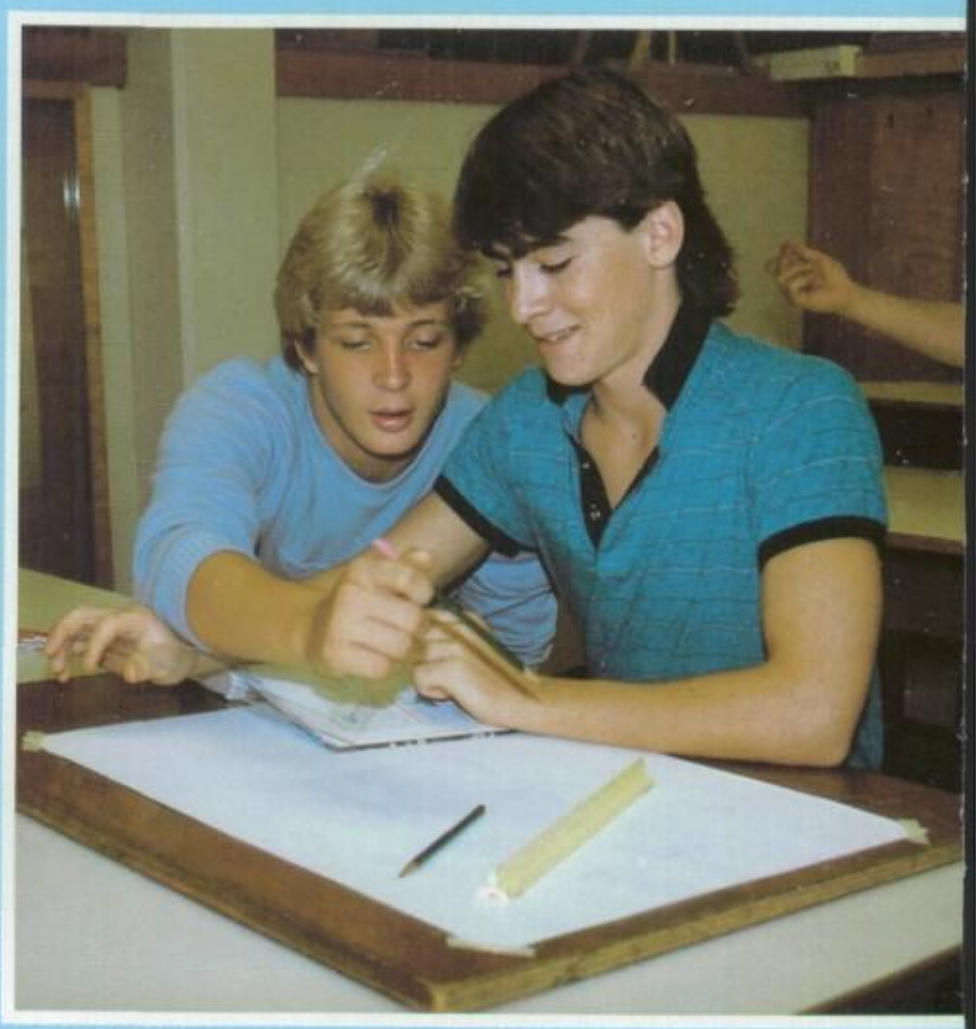
No matter what grade we're in we all have an essential need for companionship, and this is where dating enters the game.

You underclassmen guys have it rough and we all sympathize with you. Walking down the hall with your girlfriend when she's four inches taller than you is bad enough, but having mom drive you to the movies and sitting between you and your date is too much. Saying goodnight is always awkward, but with mom watching, it's down right embarrassing.

By the time you hit your junior year things are picking up a bit in the dating game. You've inherited the family station wagon, and hit all the school dances knowing how to act cool. You're no longer afraid to give your girl a peck on the cheek when you drop her off since mom's no longer playing chaperone. But be sure to have her home by 10:30, Juniors still have curfews.

Seniors have no curfew, but have another problem just as restricting — No cash flow! Most seniors work (making minimum wage), but the car payments for that new Firebird are pretty steep, and those preppie wardrobes aren't bought at Value Village. If they want to take a date to the movies, it's Monday night or nothing.

Be it going to a dance or a movie, or just sitting in the Commons holding hands, it's all part of the same thing, "The Dating Game."



Getting back to business

As the summer came to an end a feeling of excitement entered the hearts of all Highlanders, young and old. The school year was about to start. Girls fretted the usual things like what they should wear, should it be dressy or casual? What if their best friend got a different lunch? And the worst — what if no one asked them to the Homecoming Dance? When the first day arrived and alarm clocks everywhere began ringing at the unseen hour of 6:00 a.m. students donned their new clothes and began the journey to the home of the Highlanders. Students, whether they were returning or just entering Shadle for the first time, felt a feeling of pride and spirit overwhelm them as they walked the newly polished halls that had been decorated so laborously by the Varsity Cheerleaders.

The faint scent of chalk, textbooks and other classroom smells filled the air. Before they were ready to give up their shorts and water skis the bells for homeroom rang, signaling the beginning of yet another school year.

Looking back

Times change, people change and in four years a little of both occur. Our freshman year we remember victory bells almost every day, three lunches, picnic table benches in the cafeteria, "Fourth floor" classes, seventy-five cent mixers and freshmen jokes. Who remembers the first con just watching everyone else? Although we were the first freshman class at Shadle, things were made a little easier on us with the sophomores entering at the same time. That meant two rookie classes instead of the one incoming freshman class we see today. Despite tormenting from the seniors, the year went fast and was awfully fun. As it came to an end we looked forward to rising one notch higher and inching closer to our ultimate goal.

Then came our sophomore year. This year the victory was seldomly heard, not because we weren't competitive but because it was virtually overlooked. We now had two lunches instead of three but the picnic benches were still there. A whole new bunch of freshman took over and we passed along happily the "fourth floor" classes and frosh jokes. We were underclassmen still but we weren't at the bottom of the heap. It was a great year full of fun memories and special friends. Forever striving we were a little nearer to our goal.

Junior year. Upper classmen at last! The victory bell stood silent that year. Our picnic benches turned into round and square tables with chairs. Still, however, there are two lunches. We were now welcome in the commons. Getting a brief glimpse of our senior year we anxiously awaited the conclusion of the year knowing our goal was within grasp.

At last our senior year. This is it. The victory bell came alive again. The commons belonged to us now. Freshman seem to be getting smaller and smaller. We've grown from wide-eyed freshman to assured seniors. We've become young adults. We've reached the goals we've set for ourselves. Our senior year was the best, one that will always be remembered with fond memories. It's been a perfect ending to four very special years and a wonderful beginning to a new life.

ODE TO A SENIOR

Our Senior year, it's finally here!
The toils and troubles of a teenage heart
Got us off to an extraordinary start . . .

We looked up to those seniors our freshman year,
Although in our hearts they struck terror and fear.
The duct tape and torture were all we could take;
So many trials we had to forsake —
We felt that our lives were completely at stake.

From freshman to senior (our glory and goal) —
Four long hard years of toil and toil.
Four years in a lifetime is really too brief,
But the results effort brings gives us lasting relief.

Now that we're Seniors, a word from the wise,
(A bit of advice to those under our size.)

Live for the moment,
For the years go by fast —
Study a lot
And pray that you passed!!!

Four years ago we came to Shadle not knowing what lie ahead of us. We had no idea that the next four years of our lives would probably be our best.

Now as we can look back, we realize how important these four years have been. Every day was essential to help us grow, and grow we did. We have grown from boys to men and girls to women in just four years. We've learned about life and relationships, we've set goals for ourselves and are starting to accomplish those goals. We've made new friends and lost some too. And most important of all, we've become adults.

As we stand here together as seniors rather than freshmen and women and men rather than girls and boys, we are faced with responsibilities that these last four years have taught us to handle. Let's hope that these last four years have prepared us for what lies ahead. These were four years of laughing, crying and growing. Four years we will never forget.

The four-point geniuses of the world don't even know the meaning of the word. Those of us that are not perfect and on occasion become obsessed by something that forces us to cut classes and do many other naughty things quiver at the sound of . . . In-House Suspension.

Yes, we're talking about the fun six hours you get to spend locked up in solitary confinement. Of course, there are the regulars who seem to know and love being held prisoner at least two days a week. Many are disappointed at the lack of whips and shackles and beg for their right to one phone call, usually just a short forty minute chat with anyone who will listen.

Some of the teachers on duty must feel like a mix between prison cell guards and babysitters, and probably will go on strike soon for higher wages and more humane treatment. Our sympathies are with you, rest in peace.

For seniors only

Senior year — for most of us, it was a time of just having fun with friends or partying all night only to end up falling asleep in class every day. Through the general chaos and excitement, it was a time of making big decisions that would have a big effect on the rest of our lives.

College — Where to go, what to do, how to prepare, and applying for financial aid, these were just a few of the many questions running through our determined minds all year. With the help of our counselors and our wonderful career center, much of this information was readily made available to those who needed it.

Many talented students took the opportunity and extra time and effort to take college-prep classes. These classes were definitely not easy but provided a big challenge for all.

Candles burning in the night, a flood of junk food wrappers, sore eyes, and all the other great benefits of studying are just a few of the great things that many of us learned to endure. Some of the classes we took were Humanities, Physiology, and Calculus. Humanities is taught by those two reknowned heroes that we all know and love, the super team of Bell and Aleman. This is first and second period and provides an excellent opportunity for students to learn what studying and stamina are all about. Physiology, taught by Mr. Page and Calculus, taught by Mr. Leigh, are equivalent to a college credit if you pass the advanced placement tests at the end of the year.

With all of our hard work and accomplishments, the Class of '85 is assured a very successful future!

AN ABSOLUTELY FANTASTIC INSPIRATIONAL EXPERIENCE!!!

WHEN: Every Wednesday night
TIME: 7:30
WHO: Anyone and Everyone
WHAT: YOUNGLIFE!!! An opportunity to meet new friends and have a BLAST! Every Wednesday night, Shadle teenagers get together for a night of singing, skits, eating, and talking about the problems we face in life.

Senior Paula Selley describes it as "A night of FUN in a close group where you don't feel any pressures." Stephanie King calls it, "the best place to go on a Wednesday night!" Leader Connie Copeland feels that Young Life provides teenagers with a chance to establish relationships with and understand more about God and other people in a non-religious environment. A club with no officers, dues or obligations, Young Life welcomes anyone who wants to come.

Held in the homes of its members, plans for taco feeds, parties, ski trips, all night volleyball and basketball games, retreats, and winter camps were a few of the many wonderful activities planned. During the summer, Young Lifers had the opportunity to go sailing or camping at a number of Young Life camps around the country. To sum up Young Life in two words . . . "ABSOLUTELY SENSATIONAL"

Officers

FALL SEMESTER OFFICERS —

Under the leadership of President Paul Lenneman, Vice President Wendy Wright, Secretary Carol Hollenbeck, Treasurer Cindy Gracio and 5th Executive Cara Gill, the class of eighty-five got off to a productive start.

They began the year with the coordination of the Powder Puff Football games. This was a huge success with a large crowd turnout and a few casualties. Though non-profit, this event was fun for both players and spectators alike. Plans for the Senior Brunch and the Senior Prom were started early in the year also.

The class of eighty-five fall semester officers had a very successful four and a half months and proved to be an invaluable asset to the senior class.

"We must always have fond memories and new hopes"

The succession of duties was taken over by Jeff Polello — Pres., Cara Gill — Vice Pres., Beth Raymond — Sec., Kathy O'Shields — Treas., and Dave Murphy — 5th Exec.

The spring officers started their term with the planning of the Senior Brunch, set for this year at Cavanaughs Inn at the Park. Another of the many activities they coordinated was the 21st Annual Lilac Coronation. The setting was beautiful and the night an overwhelming success. Plans for the Prom went smoothly and with their experience and ideas they made the night unforgettable. The Spring officers were also responsible for putting together the Senior Production, Ski Trip and Cruise.

Being a Senior class officer requires dedication and hard work. And the work doesn't stop at graduation. The Spring officers will also be responsible for organizing reunions in the years to come.

Talent, creativeness, patience and enthusiasm are all qualities needed to become a class officer and these ten people possess all of them.

It goes without saying that the officers were very grateful to Mr. Mendoza and Mrs. Uyehara, the class advisors, for their support, leadership, caring, and excellent guidance.

TEAMWORK is a must for the class officers working closely on the Prom.

A Message from Class of '86 President

A class president is an integral part of the success of the class. And Marlo Morin, president of the class of 86 has been a strong, consistent leader who has kept things moving. She is at every class function and gives tirelessly of her time. But Marlo is the first to admit that no president ever does it alone. She has had the help of many devoted juniors and her officers and advisors. And so here is her message to the junior class:

I would like to thank my officers, Lisa, Chris, Taki and Colleen for their time, hard work and dedication given to the junior class.

I would also like to recognize Linda Carbaugh for all of her ideas and encouraging words when I needed them the most and a special thanks to Larry Poffenroth for giving me the inspiration to be a good leader and to believe in myself.

Our major fall class project was the Spaghetti Feed which, because of a lot of hard work, proved to be a great success.

I think all of my officers would agree, we learned the true meaning of dedication and all that it takes to be good leaders.

I believe the Junior Class had the potential to be the best senior class Shadle Park has seen yet.

Life is anything but common in the Commons

Originally the commons was intended as a place to do homework. Its functions was supposed to be academic, not social. But it didn't take long before students started using is as a gathering place to meet friends and be part of the crowd. As of late, the commons has undergone some major changes. Each class has their own section and it's not just for Joc's anymore. The commons is a place for everyone and everything within reason. Without a doubt it is "the place to be" at Shadle.

The commons is a tradition at Shadle that has always been and always will be strong. It has offered us not only a place to sit with our friends but has also been the place that will hold many memories of days, dances and "lunch," which will be remembered long after we graduate.

Steve Redmond — Place to go during lunch and K.I.L.T.

Tess Williamson — Great place to watch guys.

Leslie Hess — Great place to talk with friends and mess around.

Nikki Annis — Social aspect of school, gives us a break from the pressure of school.

Library; an academic tool

Shadle's library pays an important part on our academic career. It holds the information necessary for the numerous term papers we enjoy writing so much. And it provides a quiet place to study for tests.

At those critical times of year — just before term papers are due — the card catalog and readers guide are our best friends. And lines at the checkout desk are unusually long.

Juniors taking Applied Econ had to learn how to function in the library while researching their career notebooks. A lot of time was devoted to looking up occupations and their outlooks. We researched our own interests in detail. The long hours put into Econ in the library were not wasted as we learned valuable information that will be useful to us as consumers.

Class of '86 benefits from dedicated advisors

An advisor is someone who gives advice, counsels, cautions and warns; someone who notices, recommends, consults and informs. And that's just the beginning. An advisor gives generously of their time and talent for the good of the class and its success.

They decorate, count ballots, get up early for class meetings; discuss, make decisions, direct and are generally dedicated. They listen, lead, lend a hand, laugh and really care. That's the most important thing of all — why else would you do it — they care.

An advisor realizes that they are doing much more than just giving of their time. They're making an investment in each and every student they touch as well as making a lasting contribution to the school.

The Class of 86 is very lucky to have Larry Poffenroth and Linda Carbaugh as their advisors. Their support has been instrumental in the success of class projects and their smile and sense of humor have helped make things go smoothly. They have served as wise counsel and contributed a wide variety of ideas as well as being good sounding boards.

Another advisor whom every junior knows and has sought the help of is Ken Judd, junior counselor. It has been his task to guide students in their academic careers and a fine job he has done of it.

All three of these advisors feel lucky, themselves, to be able to work with this year's juniors. They unanimously agree that "the class of 86 is a great bunch of kids and hard workers."

And juniors would like to unanimously thank these three who have helped the class a great deal with all of their support and dedication.

The Spring semester officers were John Howlett as President, Sean Douglas as Vice President, Marlo McIntyre, Secretary, Joyce Johnson, Treasurer and Christie Herzog in the position of 5th Executive. With the already successful fall semester they were able to get moving right away. Selling key chains during KILT and both lunches they got on the fund raising. They have also worked on getting a spot for a mixer for future fund raising. The efforts of the fall and spring officer will insure the next three years will be successful for the class of "87"

Picture Not Available

Our first officers for the class of "87" are Laura Davis: President, Vicki Day: Vice President, Tania Page: Secretary, Robin Peterson: Treasurer, and Sean Anderson: Fifth Executive. The advisor is Ms. Morrison. They got things started successfully at the beginning of the year. Vicki Day went around and made sure all the Sophomores' homerooms had representatives at the meetings. At one of the first meetings they brainstormed ideas on how to raise money and decided on buttons and key chains. The buttons sold really well because the Varsity Volleyball team was going over to Renton to play in the state finals and everybody wanted a new button to pin on their letterman's jacket or coat. They also won the float competition at the Homecoming football game and participated in the Powder Puff game. Sean Anderson got our scrapbook started, it fearures: Pictures of the Powder Puff game and he's trying to get pictures of all the officers. All and all the fall officers did a good job getting things going.

Traffic Safety Education: A head start

TSE is the most exciting class a sophomore can take. The teachers this year are Mr. Henry, and Mrs. Miller, Mr. Dunlop helps with the driving section of the course. TSE teaches th traffic and the obvious; starting and stopping a car correctly.

The first couple of days students stay in the classroom and lear before really getting in the car to drive. The class is divided into ce perienced, those who are doing okay, and those people who h do most of the driving while the experienced drivers don't drive on what group you're in.

Sophomores at Cons

Becoming a Sophomore means advancing to the lower section of the auditorium. I can remember the first con, I walked in and not up, but past the stairs.

It was amazing! For the first time we could see and understand what was going on on the stage. The upperclasmen didn't shout their vulgar remarks at us. For the first time we were actually accepted.

Often we found ourselves saving up all of our energy to out scream the Seniors and Juniors. Our effort paid off when we managed to win some of the class competitions. We definitely proved we could compete and we are a class to be reckoned with.

In the future we will possibly have a battle when the Freshmen come from the cheap seats, but that's an outrageous possibility. When we get the chance to sit in the middle of the auditoriam, we will show that the class of "87" has the most pride and spirit ever.

A Requirement

Biology is one of the requirements that Sophomores have to fill this year. The teachers are Mr. Haney, Mr. Page, Mr. Gaebe, Mr. Groves and Mr. Mendoza. Mr. Mendoza was asked a few questions concerning Biology:

Q: What are students supposed to learn about in Biology?

A: They are supposed to have an awareness of science.

Q: Why is Biology a requirement?

A: You are living, you affect living things and living things affect you. My hope is that students gain an appreciation of their environment and the organisms around them.

Q: What was the funniest incident that happened in Biology?

A: The class was dissecting eyeballs, a few kids smuggled some out and stuck them to Mrs. Forsyth's ceiling.

Q: In your point of view, what do students enjoy the most about Biology?

A: Me! No, actually I think it's the labs, most of the kids like to dissect things.

The Difference between a Freshman and a Sophomore

Mr. Aleman: The Freshmen are more enthusiastic because everything is so new to them. They're excited about being here but they don't participate enough in school activities, resulting from their shyness. The exact opposite is the Sophomores, they're comfortable here at Shadle because they've been here a year so they aren't as enthusiastic but they do participate more actively in school.

Mr. Isitt: Freshmen have naivitee and look of innocence that I envy as they embark upon a new experience called Shadle Park. The Sophomores experienced that new dimension Shadle Park, they have tasted it and realized it was good, they desire more.

Mrs. Blair: Freshmen don't really understand Shadle Park Traditions, they haven't invested as much time in Shadle as the Sophomores have, and you only get as much out of school that you put in.

Freshmen learn the ropes at Cons

Everyone can recall the horror and humiliation of being a freshman at a con. As you walk towards the auditorium for the first time you feel the vibrations of the band playing. You feel excited and bewildered as you walk in. You feel lost and not quite sure where to sit.

You don't know any of the cheers and you sure can't understand the cheerleaders screaming the words loudly through the microphone. When they start yelling '88, '88 — 80-80 — '88 you wonder to yourself whether they're asking for your row number or your class. No matter how well you think you cheer, you still get laughed at, booed, and any trace of self-pride left is demolished.

But towards the end of the year, your confidence has built up and you feel more sure of yourself. You almost win one of the class competitions and finally feel like a part of the school.

And you're looking forward to being a sophomore next year moving from "back there" to the main floor and be heard.

Watch out for the Class of 88!

Moments as a Frosh

10. JANET ROBEL: I was wearing heels and walking down the stairs to the choir room and tripped four stairs from the bottom and fell flat on my face.

11. TERRANCE KINLOW: I fell in the lunchroom carrying my lunch.

12. KARRINA PAGE: I went to open my locker and when it wouldn't open I finally figured out that I was on the wrong floor.

13. DARCEY TASHEY: I tripped over my own feet and tumbled into Phil Folsom.

14. SUZAN ELIXMAN: When I went to kick Tim Kendall I missed and fell in front of the whole class.

15. MICHELLE KELLY: When I was walking down the hallway with my friends and they pushed me into Tim Potts while he was talking to a friend.

16. GINA GREEN: When everyone found out Dana Richardson was my nephew.

17. BRAD LONG: The first day of school I tripped up the stairs.

A.S.B. Strength of Shadle

The Associated Student Body of Shadle Park High School, more often referred to as the A.S.B., is the foundation of all Highlander activities.

The fall A.S.B. officers President Sam Otterstrom, Vice President Paula Shill, Secretary Debi Cool, Treasurer Shelli LeBret, Fifth Executive Stevie Skaife, and Advisor Pam Scott set high expectations for themselves to make it the best year possible. The officers began planning activities in early August after attending Mt. Baker leadership camp. They planned an orientation for the frosh to help them become acquainted with the school and all it offered. Next the officers set their sights on Homecoming week hoping to make it the most memorable event of the year. Classes and the faculty were asked to help decorate cars and trucks to carry the royalty at the halftime of the game. Dress up days and class competitions were planned to promote school spirit and unity. The next project found the officers and Advisor Mrs. Scott on the way to the coast to learn more about other high schools and their activities. The trip was successful in bringing back many ideas, along with the possibility of a leadership class at SP. Other activities included the successful Winter Ball and a drug awareness con.

Products of Teamwork . . .

After the great job of the fall officers the Spring A.S.B. Officers definitely had their job cut out for them, but they proved just how great a job five senior girls could do. President Paula Shill, Vice President T. J. Doe, Secretary Kirsten Utheim, Treasurer Kami Ellenz, and Fifth Executive Jodi Lindley worked hard and brought about a great deal of change in the attitude of the student body and staff. They started off with the Valentine's Day dance that wouldn't soon be forgotten. Before long they had the students hunting for the magic students and faculty comforted with teacher survival kits during the much acclaimed P.M.A. or Positive Mental Attitude Week. Their guest speaker had the students abolish the habits attributing to a bad attitude and before the week was through Shadle Park was once again spirited and proud. Their efforts also made the Lilac Coronation beautiful for all who were involved. The spring as well as the fall officers did a great job promoting school pride, unity, and involvement.

OUR SPECIAL PRIDE

Representing Shadle is Principal Jack Matthews and newly crowned Shana Dickson.

FINALISTS, escorts, MC and courtiers for the 1985 Lilac Coronation.

There comes a time in the life of every Senior girl when she forgets about school work, her job, and even her boyfriend. Her thoughts begin to wander to one of the most exhilerating events of the school year, the Lilac coronation. Nearly all girls dream of becoming a Lilac princess at one time or another but for one very special young lady this dream became a reality.

It all begin in the somewhat dreary month of February. The senior class was asked to vote for the top 40 girls out of 185. The 40 was then reduced to 20. At that time the 20 semi-finalists were given one week to prepare a three minute speech to present to a panel of judges chosen by the senior classs officers. The day the speeches were to be given was an exciting one for all involved. Just to enter the cafeteria, where the semi-finalists were waiting. One could sense the energy running through the girls. After the speeches and questions were completed the judges completed their task of choosing the ten girls who would be the finalists.

On March 21, 1985 there were 10 young ladies whose minds were going over the evening and all the possible impromptu questions they could receive. They had been reciting their speeches forwards and backwards during classes and in their sleep. Everywhere one went there was hugs, flowers, and words of luck.

When 7:30 finally arrived the finalists and escorts, Nicole Annis & Dave Bruketta, Debi Cool & Sam Otterstrom, Shana Dickson & Dave Ryprien, T. J. Doe & Ben Brantl, Cara Gill & Paul Lenneman, Stephaine King & Jeff Polello, Shelli LeBret & Tom Selberg, Lisa Lowther & Scott Stevens, Kristen Utheim & Phi Folsum, Wendy Wright & Forrest Healy, were dressed in their best and ready to go,. After the introductions were completed and speeches were delivered. The finalists took a break to freshen up and prepare for the second half of the program. When the impromptu questions were completed and the big moment arrived, a silence fell on the crowd. A look of hope and pride covered the faces of all of the finalists, parents, and friends.

Then the moment all the girls had waited for, the 1984 Lilac princess Linda Harris announced the 1985 Shadle Lilac princess was Miss Shana Dickson. The cheer that went up by the audience and the look on Shana's face only reassured the judges choice.

It was not only a victory for Shana but for all involved. Shadle Park should be proud at having such an outstanding group of students and a young lady like Shana to represent us. She showed that special something that Highlanders seem to possess.

Choral Excellence

The art of good music is a long lived tradition at Shadle, and the choir groups have kept that alive this year. It is Mr. Randall Fink, the advisor's, second year here at Shadle. He's an alumni and is excited to be working with the different groups, and seeing the program expand.

The first group is the Concert Choir, they are young but show great potential. They sing at the concerts and at city contests. This group is the youngest but will be what the future is built upon.

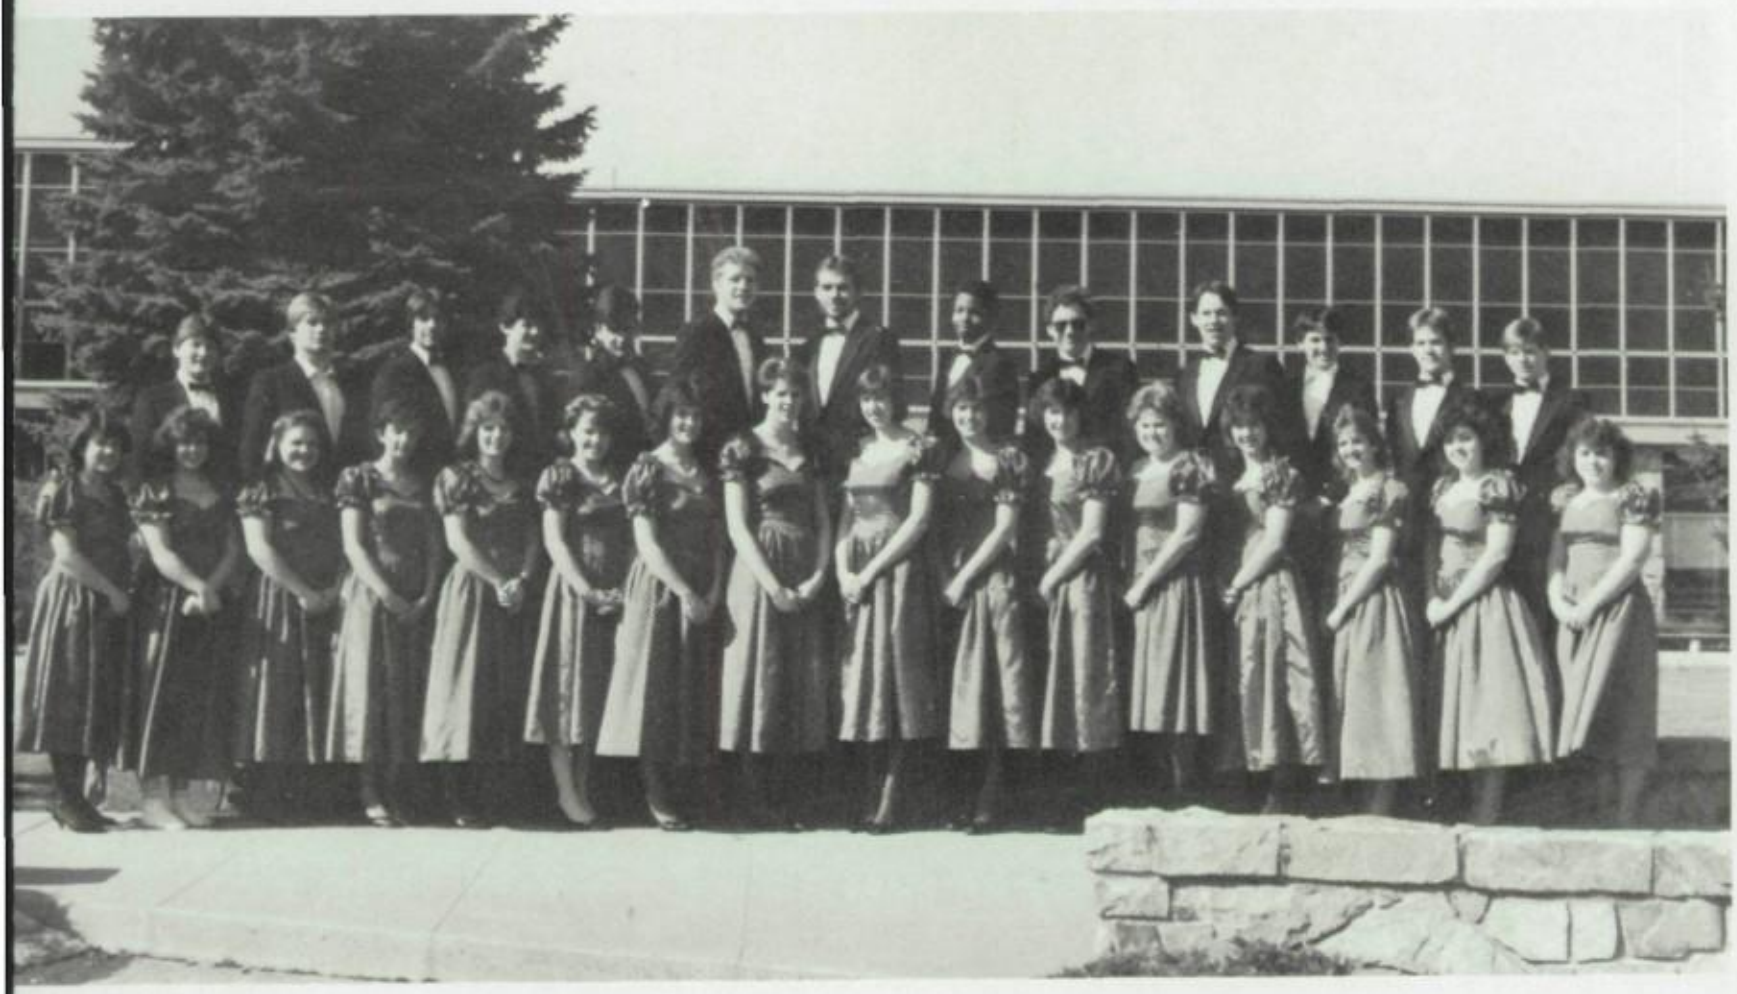
Not Pic- red: Esther Taladay, Elaine DePonty, Lynette Blevins, Andrea Hill, Janet Rebel and Erik Stutzenegger.



The Girls' Ensemble is unique, mainly because of its all female membership. They sing many different types of songs from classical Bach to modern pop. The girls have sung at concerts as well as for special occasions outside of school. They sang in banks and restaurants, and many different places you would not expect. They do this mainly during Christmas and in the Spring.

The Chorale is the performing choir. This year it was very young, with quite a few freshmen and sophomores. But they were terrific. They mainly sing the classical songs, written in Latin, German, and occasionally English.

A few of the honorary things the Chorale does are performing the Junior Symphony for a mass in the Opera House, they also have the honor to sing at Graduation.

The Jazz Choir is a very specialized group. In order to be excepted into it you must try out. The people in this program must also be in Chorale and tend to be very devoted to music. The Jazz Choir sings modern songs with more upbeat tunes.

LA LA LA LA, sings Missy Smith, Mary Gross, Pat Simmons and Tina Jones at the ASB Installation Con.

The different groups are all involved in some of the same activities. Fund raisers are one of the more notable. The choirs have done quite a few this year selling everything from candy to jewelry. They have all worked hard in an attempt to earn money to go on retreats and trips.

They were also involved in hosting the All-Northwest Band Competition, as well as sending 3 people to it. The program is working well with more and more students getting involved.

Debate

A battle of wit and words

In the past few years Shadle Park has seen many changes in the field of Forensic Debate. These changes have made for one of the most competative teams in the state.

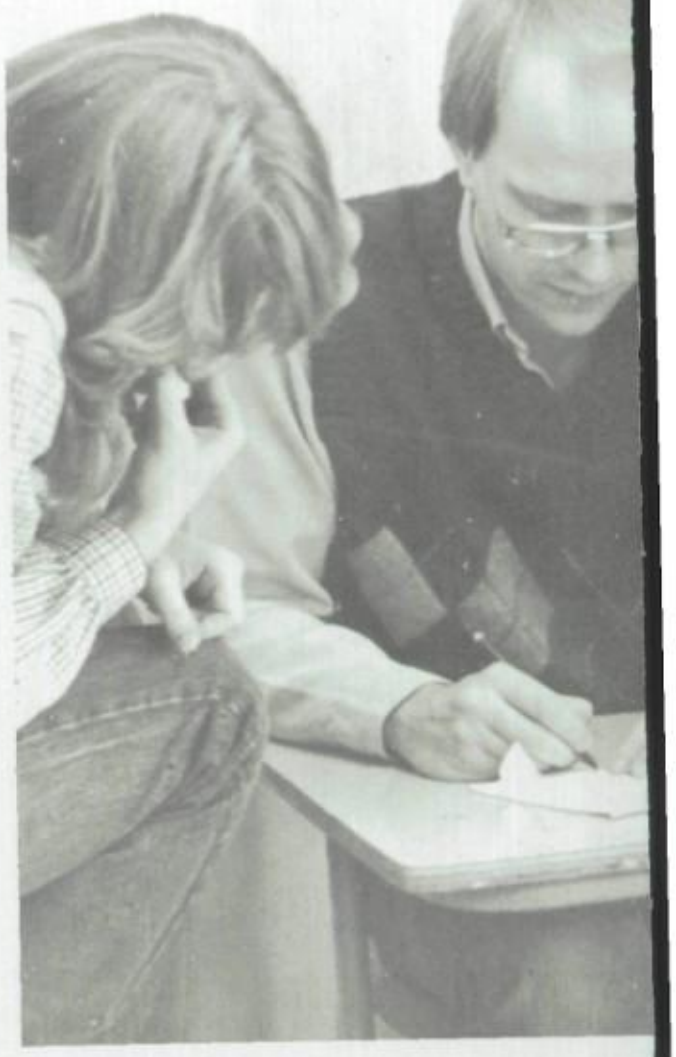
The aggressive varsity team of Robb Emehiser and Terry Stevens did extremely well. Aside from winning numerous matches, they represented Shadle in the State tournament. The other varsity team of Mel Marquis, Corey Ovendale and Jeff Swan also had an outstanding year.

Shadle had many outstanding novices and J.V. debators. The J.V. teams consisted of Phil Folsom and Rita Hutchinson, Mike Mann and Nicole Farup. For their first year in competition they showed considerable potential. The Novices were Grady Roberts and Paul Brewer.

Julie Amsbury and Andy Brown debated Lincoln Douglas. This is a one on one form of Debate which deals with moral issues rather than strictly facts.

This year's debating topic was one the nations need to look seriously towards adopting; Providing jobs for all employable U.S. citizens living below the poverty line. It has been set at $9860 a year for a family of four.

"It was an awesome year. Through our dedication and hard work the Shadle Park debate program has continued to grow and prosper." said Robb Emehiser.



GOOD GUIDANCE helped t teams become as successful as th were.

Shadle's pride

1985 Highland Dancers

Kilts, swords and Bagpipes bring to mind the traditonal Scottish Spirit and pride of the Highlander. Under the direction of Ms. Morrison, the Highland Dancers continue to represent this image here at Shadle.

The dancers work very hard during the year and not just here at school. They do many performances throughout the year at different functions in Spokane. They all must take private lessons, learning many new dances and perfecting their skills. These girls participate in many of the cons and are a very important part of Shadle spirit. Much appreciation and many thanks to the 1985 Highland Dancers who are Monica Haraldson, Heidi Bohnet, Cindy Herrmann, Shelly Munro, Nancy Munro. Row 2: Cheryl Smith, Kim Wagner, Lisa Vavrek, Willy O'Bannon, Angie Ambrose, Mindy Baker.

SHADLE'S PRIDE. The Highland Dancers Heidi Bohnet, Shelly Munro, Kim Wagner, and Cindy Herman catch the eyes of their half-time audience with a skillful performance.

Shadle's tradition

1985 Pipe Band

A long standing tradition here at Shadle is the Highlander Pipe Band. It is very unique in that it's one of the few high school Pipe Bands in the nation.

Under the instruction of Ms. Morrison, the pipers put in much of their own time to perfect their skills with after school practices and private lessons.

The Pipe Band performs throughout Spokane for different organizations to raise money. This talented group also performs during football and basketball halftimes and at cons.

It takes years for the pipers to perfect their skills and to assure that this program never dies out. Ms. Morrison has begun to teach junior high school students the art of playing the bagpipes.

DECA promotes sales, marketing

DECA is one of Shadle's many beneficial organizations. This club is intended for students who wish to learn many of the valuable techniques which will greatly benefit them in the Sales and Marketing field. Some of these techniques are merchandising, management, advertising, display, sales promotion, and human relations.

DECA members are involved in many activities throughout the year including Sales and Marketing Conferences, Workshops, their annual State Conference in the spring and various field trips.

DECA is a great opportunity for students to gain experience in many different fields which will prove to be beneficial in their future.

BUSINESS AS USUAL. Shelly Powers listens attentively to Mr. Morlan's discussion of merchandising technique.

CO-OP prepares for the future

CO-OP is an organization here at Shadle that combines work and fun for its members. There is a total of 22 members under the direction of Ann Uyehara. During class the CO-OP students refine their business skills, go on field trips, have guest speakers, and conduct club meetings. In order to qualify for CO-OP, students must have an interest in office work, typing skills and other business courses that add to their employability. They must also be seniors and have good attendance records.

Some CO-OP students were employed by Group Health of Spokane, Medical Service Corporation, Jensen-Byrd Company, Riverview Convalescent Center, an attorney, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the city of Spokane.

CO-OP is a great class for gaining experience in the business world and in seeking business careers in the future.

FINISHING TOUCHES. Polishing up Business skills like typing is essential to every CO-OP student.

"Quiet on Set"

Shadle Park's drama starts down the road to stardom . . .

The Shadle Drama Club is one of great strength and success. Not only because it has a fantastic advisor, but because they work together as a unit. The members of the Drama Club are a family always striving to do their best but having fun at the same time.

The first play of the year, E.S.P., was a great success. Cast members included Scott Lockhart, Nicole Farup, Ricki Polello, Rita Hutchinson, Tina Jones, Phil Folsum, Sonja Sanders, Chet Jones, Julie Franke, Erin Hughes, Judy Ott, Erika Thomas, Wendy Goings and Valerie Spurgeon.

The Drama Club is growing in many ways. The people and the performances keep getting better and better. The hard work is beginning to show, and in their own special way the drama family is coming alive with talent and enthusiasm.

Other worlds are revealed to us through Foreign Languages. They bring us different cultures from Europe including French, Latin, Spanish and German. As students learn these different tongues, they learn not only words and phrases but also about people's lifestyles across the world.

Some of the language classes may be difficult but they make students understand and have more appreciation for English. Classes are made more interesting for students through cultural enrichment, clubs and field trips.

Our Spanish club is also very involved in the community activities, one of them being their annual food, toy, and clothing drive for the less fortunate families in the Spokane area at Christmas time.

Color Guard begins new tradition

The Color Guard is an inspirational group of girls who perform at football and basketball games. This year the group did not have an instructor so they were under the direction of Mr. Snyder.

These dedicated students put in hours of practice on and off the field in order to perform up to Shadle's standard of exellence. An average of 20 hours a week of their own time was spent working very closely with the band during football season. They also participate in Color Guard Competitions, and in the Lilac Parade.

Many changes have taken place in the last 2 years including a change of title. They were formerly referred to as HI-Lassies, but changed to Color Guard because they are now strictly a performing group rather than promoters of spirit. Another drastic change was that of group size. They decreased in membership to 1/3 of the preceding year.

Hopefully this inspiring organization will continue to prosper and gain Highlander support.

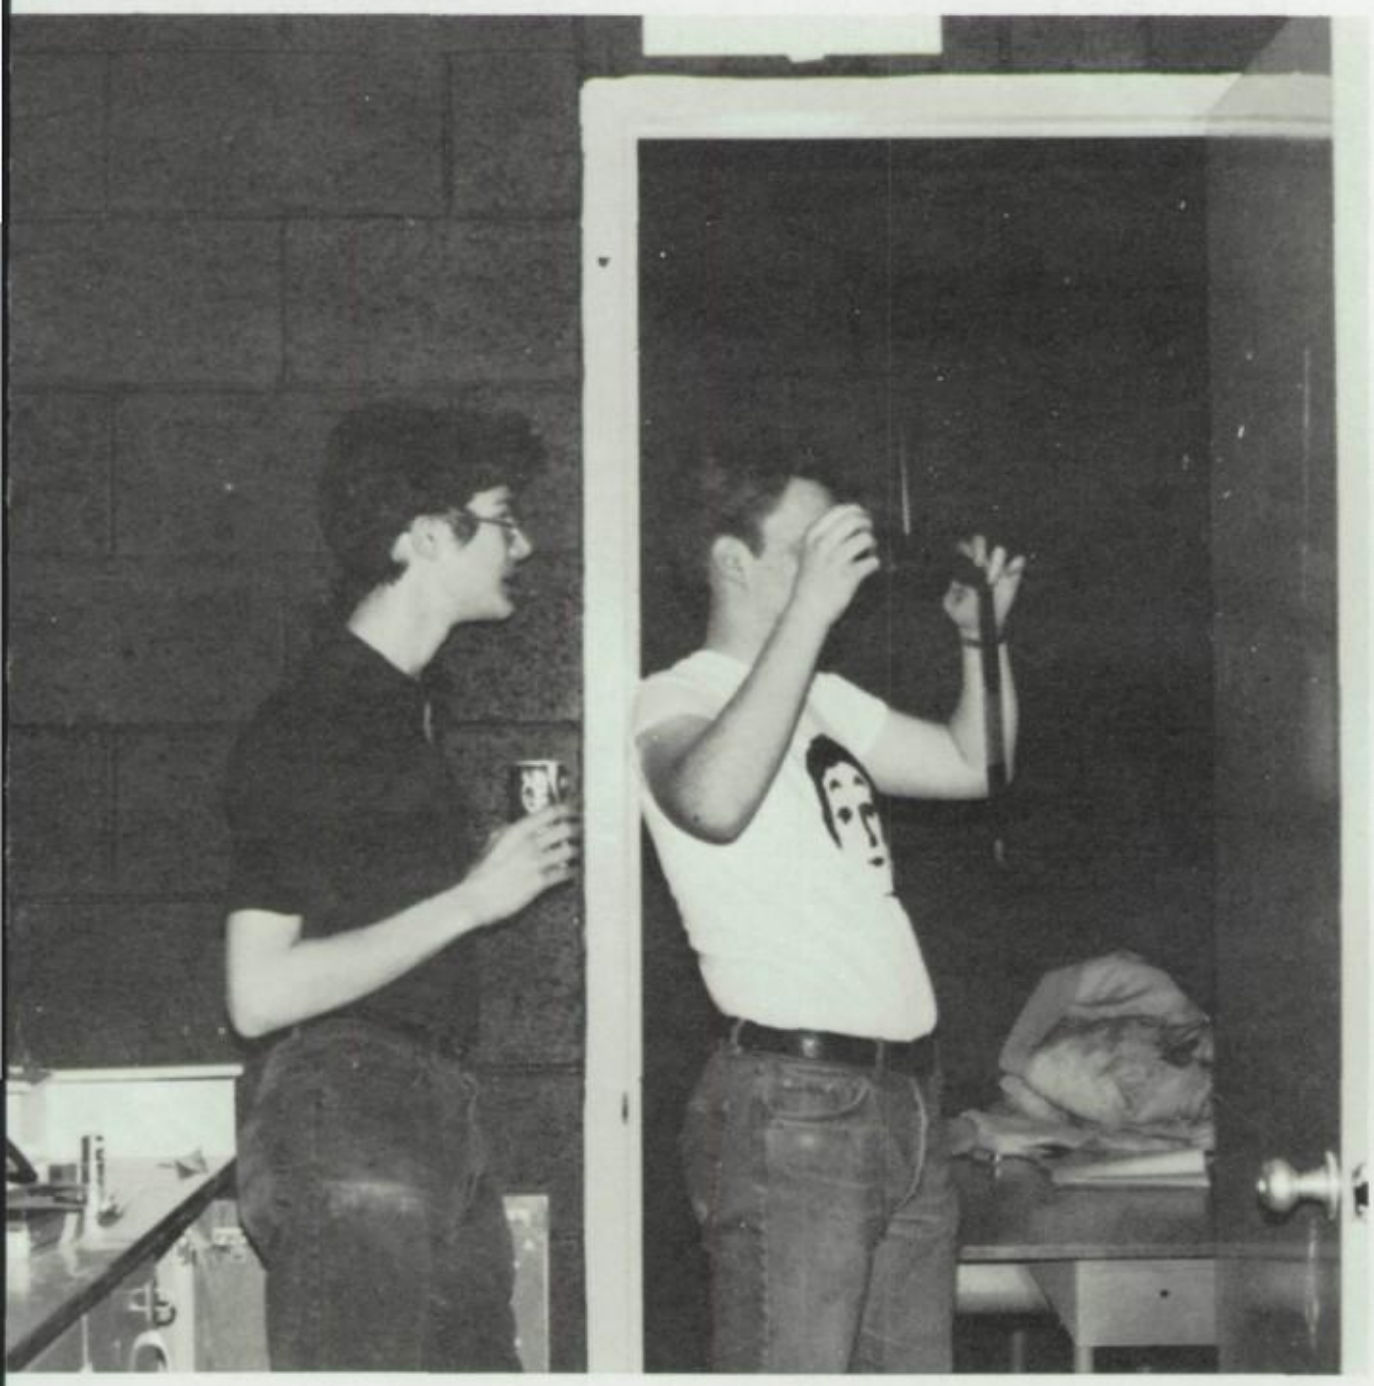
Focuses in on Highlanders

Very few people realize the time, dedication, and work that go into being a member to the photographer staff. The guys that take the pictures know what it involves. They don't go to games and to dances just to be there with their friends they're there to do a job for Shadle. You can rely on the photographers for your pictures. Without their help, time and dedication it would have been impossible to put the newspaper and yearbook together.



Reaching for the Top . . .

The Highlander band and orchestra are unique performing groups here at Shadle. Mr. Snyder, the director, has been responsible for their success and has done much to improve the skills and attitude of the members.

The Jazz Band is a specialized group with exceptional talent. They compete in many events throughout the year such as competitions held at Spokane Falls, and the University of Idaho. They also provided the music for the Lilac Coronation in addition to all of the concerts they have performed at other school functions.

Students that join Jazz Band are dedicated to improve their musical ability, as well as learning different jazz styles and techniques. Many of the members go on to study music

The Highlander Orchestra is in a class by itself. Their selections of music range from Baroque to classical, and they perform at the Fall, Winter, and Spring concerts.

The Orchestra members put many hours of practicing into getting that special sound they strive to achieve. Hard work and enthusiasm are combined in an effort to perfect their ability.

In their own way Shadle Park's marching band makes the school number one. They begin Practicing in August in order to have their routines perfected by football season. Throughout the year they were in various band competitions, such as the Festival of Eugene, Oregon. At this event the energetic band made finals, took 5th place in open division, and won the trophy for having the best brass section.

During the year many fund raisers are put into action to help pay for the trips the band must take for competitions. These fund raisers included a taco feed, carwashes, and the annual selling of candy bars.

Horticulture

A season in full bloom

Horticulture is a vocational class which provides skill training for students who plan on entering into a horticulture field such as flower shops, green houses, and other industries. Shadle's program consists of a one year introductory class and a one year two period advanced class.

Leadership training and financial support is provided by the FFA organization. Some of the FFA activities include annual Christmas and Mother's Day open house sales, Parent's Nights, Fall bar-b-que and Horticulture contests in which Shadle has been very competitive.

This year's fall semester's officers included President — Mindy Gow; Vice President — Kathy O'Shields; Secretary — Carol Dohler; Treasurer — Martha Hutchinson, Reporter — Kathy Staiges and Sentinel — Debbie Highes.

Highlights

Voice of the Highlanders

Glory and fame go right along side of perspiration and determination. Armed with pencils, notebooks and bif words, the innovative staff of the Highlander Highlights hit the halls in search of that one story that will propel them into the limelight and make their name a household word.

An extended vocabulary, a way with words, the willingness to spend long hours in the print shop, the strength to take criticism and above all, the ability to work with cranky people who are stressed over late deadlines are essential ingredients to the making of any grade "A" Highlights reporter.

The publication is broken down into four unique sections: News covers the basic man about campus happenings. Editorial is that division which you can write the most controversial, opinionated and just short of slanderous stories your little heart desire. Creative insights conceived in moments of inspiration can be taken to the limit which makes this area a nonconformist's dream come true. An inch of fabrication and a mile of exaggeration are necessary tools for any hopeful Sports journalist. They require the skill to make our less fortunate athletes who have had somewhat of a weak season look like "glorified gods" and that's not always an easy task.

The reknowned staff of the Highlights included: Debbie Freese and Erik Jokinen Editors-in-Chief; Steve Marx Associate Editor, Cheryl Hall and Kim Mortensen News Editors; Debi Egger Editorial Editor, Dave Cunningham Feature Editor; Don Sciascia and Eric Miller Sports Editors, Business Manager, Paula Seeley and Advisor Joyce Lykes. Staff writers included Susan Campbell, Corby Clemens, Colleen Finney, Susan Jacobs, Mark Leckie, Bernadette Lyons, Julie Mason, Pat McCoy, Marian Prescott, Brenda Schneider, Chris Sciascia and Dan Olson.

Shadle Park's Key Club is a service organization that provides the school and community with much needed and appreciated help.

A few of their activities throughout the past year have included: Organizing the Superdance in which all proceeds go to the MDA, throwing a Christmas banquet for elderly citizens, and taking Cerebral Palsey victims out for a night on the town bowling. Here at Sadle they donate their time helping out in the special education department.

The Key Club is closely affiliated with the Kiwanis. The students participate in service activities for their organization, and in return the Kiwanis lend their financial support.

This year's annual Key Club convention was held here in Spokane with participants coming from Washington, Alaska, Canada, Idaho and parts of California. During the convention the members elect new district officers, attend workshops and lectures and are given the chance to interact with other community conscious high school students.

This year's Key Club officers include: President — Donna Miller, Vice President — Esther Talsday, Secretary — Brenda Riplinger, Treasurer — Kim McVey, and was under the advisory of Mr. Ross.

Inter School Leaders

Under the direction of Mr. Miller, six of the school's leaders met with other area high schools to exchange ideas and general information on each other's problems and city wide problems.

This year proved to be a prosperous and productive one for all area high schools as Inter Hi Senate once again taught students to work together. This talented and strong group of leaders include Senior Paul Lenneman, Lisa Morganroth, Sam Otterstrom, and Paula Shill while Chad Bullard and Marlo Morin represented the Junior class.

Tradition Upholders

The Shadle Park Activity League of 1984-85, under the advisory of Mrs. Elias, was both exciting and profitable. Carrying on tradition was the main goal of this year's officers.

The year began with Shadles 2nd Annual Homecoming convocation and dance; which was undoubtedly a success. With the theme Green and Gold Celebration, the studentbody seemed to enjoy the dance and week's events.

In October Moonlight Madness was the theme for the ever popular Sadie Hawkins. Both unique and fun costumes were seen among the attenders, and as usual the dance was talked about for weeks to follow.

Santa pictures by Bob Hess were taken in December during both lunch for anyone who was in the 'Spirit'.

The Cotton Day Dance was once again a success . . . "Let's Go Crazy" was the theme, and all the girls were out trying to find the perfect date for the last dance of the year.

Both the Father Daughter and the Mother Student nights were League activities. If you wanted to get mom and dad involved in school this was the perfect place to start.

Activity League was also responsible for bringing back Student and Faculty Members of the month and the Birthday Calendar with cards and suckers for everyones birthday.

This year's Activity League had a strength that was unexplainable. When the going got tough, that strength got the troops going.

Fall Activity League consisted of President — Jo Howes, Vice President — Julie Franek, Secretary — Kelly Knutson, Treasurer — Jodi Lindley, 5th Executive — Ray Shill and Committee Chairmen — Vickie Gately.

Letter Club 1985

The Letterman's club underwent a few major renovations in the past year, the most obvious being the addition of new members, female members. The Letterman's club now is open to anyone who has earned the letter "S". Another change came about in the form of a new advisor, Mr. Gaebe.

The club has done many activities this year in an effort to raise money for athletic equipment. A few such activities were the blood drive, turkey raffle, money scramble, a mixer and the first ever lift-a-thon in the history of Shadle Park.

This year's officers included: President — Don Santos, Vice President — Dave Rypien, Treasurer — Goeff Asan, and Secretary — Kyle Davis.

1985 N.H.S.

The National Honor Society is for Juniors and Seniors who excell in the academic areas. You must be recommended by three of your teachers, demonstrate good character, leadership qualities and do services for the community and school. As a Junior you must hava a 3.8 GPA and as a Senior a 3.5 or better GPA.

There are two installation programs a year. The fall is for the new Seniors coming into the N.H.S. and the spring for the new Juniors.

This year's officers were: President — San Otterstrom, Vice President — Lisa Lowther, Secretary — Wendy Wright, Treasurer — Carrie Shugert. Mr. Chandler is the advisor. Congratulations to all the honor students on their determination and academic success.

A.F.S. AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE

Since its establishment in 1960 the American Field Service (A.F.S) has been strongly supported at Shadle Park. The purpose of this organization is to promote cultural awareness, and expose students to the many foreign countries that are represented.

The simple things that we do everyday such as going to McDonald's for lunch, cruising Riverside, and participating in school organized sporting events, are new experiences for many of these foreign students. They have activities that are comparable, but none the less different.

While our foreign friends are here at Shadle they are urged to get involved and become one of the gang. They become true Highlanders during the first game they attend as they lose all inhibition with the rest of the crowd when Chickalaca rings through the rafters.

The foreign exchange students learn about life in the United States by mingling with peers, and we learn about their lifestyle also. We hope they enjoyed their year here at Shadle, and the whole Highlander experience. Best of luck in the future.

The Foreign Exchange students were Tor Solberg of Norway, Pierre Gigounon of Belgium, Alexander Tornow of Germany, Bjorn Skallerud of Norway, Maria Morcillo of Spain and Jennifer Steiner of Australia. Mr. Chandler was the advisor.

Tor Solberg, Eric & I got pulled over by the State Patrol and read our rights because they thought we were involved in ahit and run and we weren't Playing soccer for the Skyhawks.

Pierre Gigounon, Belgium

In the gym of U-Hi, a wire coming down from nowhere got hooked on Don's pants. As we all got up, Don falls down the bleachers. A large peice of his pants still on the wire. I think that I had never laughed so hard in my life.

Alex Tornow, Germany

The Cons are a very different experience but fun. Skiing on Mt. Spokane was great. Getting my driver's license was good too — its nice to get your license when you are 16.

Maria Luisa Morillo, Spain

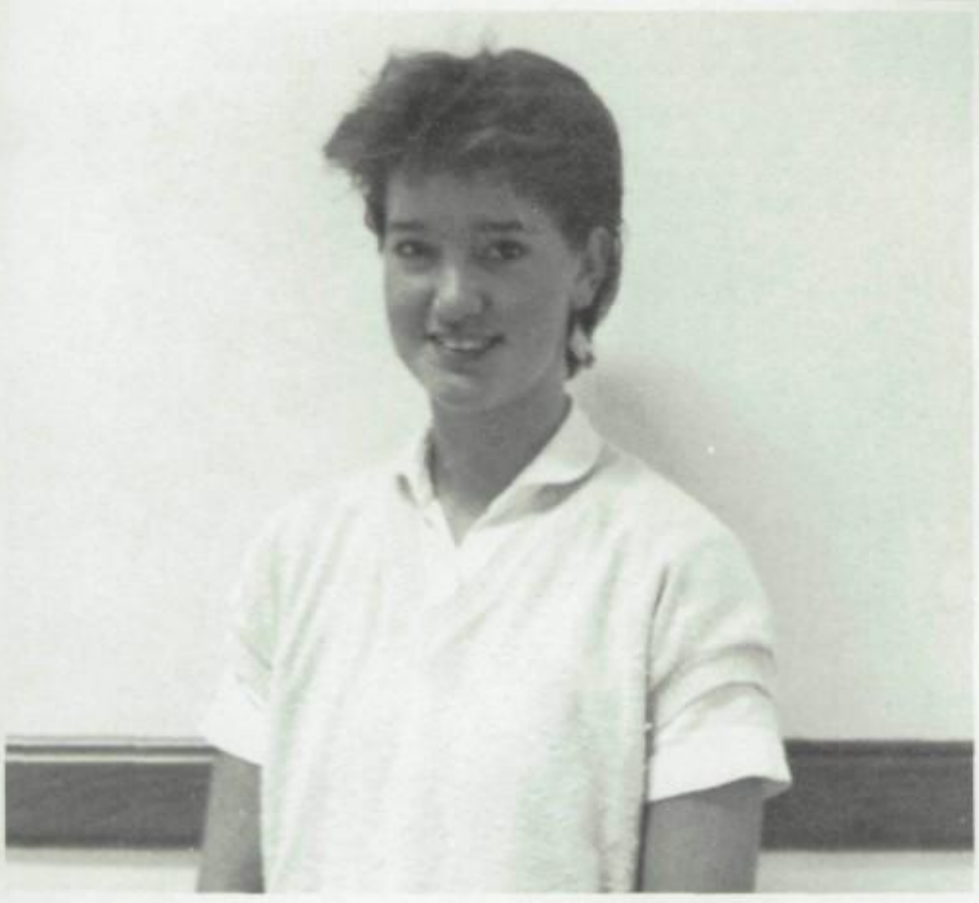
My experience in the U.S.A., has been very neat. This is my seventh month here and I really like it. When I first came, I was a little bit afraid of everything. I didn't know how I was going to meet friends, or how American people were. Now I see, that I didn't have to worry so much. American people are like people everywhere else. Mostly nice and friendly.

Coming to the U.S.A. has changed me. I have learned new things about the world, about different cultures, I have met and made friends that I will never forget and now, I am more outward, more self confident, and most of all, I know how to deal with people because I know thay are like me.

I wouldn't change my experience here for nothing else in the world, because it has helped me to mature in more ways that I could ever imagine.

Bjorn Magnus Skallerud, Oslo, Norway

I would say that my first day at school is my most memorable experience so far.



Jenny Steiner, Adelaide, Australia

I am hoping to attend my first, and last Senior prom in June which, for me, will be a memorable experience. Otherwise, just having the opportunity to come to the U.S. has been GREAT!!!

A DEDICATED FOURSOME:

KSPH Announcers

Although Shadle's own broadcasting club has been around for several years, it hasn't been fully recognized until more recently. The Ksph club conssits of announcers Kyle Davis, Shelly McInerey, Don Sciascia, and Scott Stevens. They may not be the most recognized students in Shadle Park High School but are some of the most dedicated and responsible students around. They volunteered to give up their free time to announce at all of the home games of Volleyball, basketball, wrestling and gymnastics. Under the guidance of Mrs. Denise Hartfield these four broadcasters learned more about an announcer's job and all the responsibilities that go with it. They all deserve a big thanks for all their hard work.

Behind the Scenes

An indispensable behind the scenes team here at Shadle is the Stage Crew. Behind every con and activity in the auditorium are these dedicated and hard working students running the sound system, spotlights, curtains, and other assorted props. The Stage Crew are people you never notice when they are doing their job, but in their absence things would be chaos, and they would be sorely missed.

Among their many obligations are setting up for Shadle's annual plays, decorating for Lilac Coronation, and providing special effects during League and ASB Installation Cons.

All Stage Crew members are required to take a class in which they learn to handle and operate the equipment they work with, then they are ready to work.

Although they donate their time to the school, all outside groups are required to pay a fee to use the auditorium and part of it goes to the stage crew. Stage Crew membres include: Tony Duncan, Steve Flock, Greg Gibson, Allen Hampton, Rick Jacobs, Scott Jones, Brian Peelgran, and Trevor Stutsman, and is now under the direction of Mr. Elvington.

A step above the rest . . .

For someone not directly involved in the Yearbook process, comprehension of the constant complete chaos is impossible. Walking by room 130, one can get a glimpse of the confusion. The confusion, although is always justified in the end. But what seems to be confusion to the outsider is simply abstract organization to a yearbook staff member.

What most people don't understand is what yearbook is all about. The students often figure the annual yearbook is a right granted to everyone, when actually all things considered, it should be viewed as a definate privilege! The work that goes into putting a yearbook together is tremendous, and takes skill, time, patience, and plain dedication backed by relentless determination.

At the beginning of the school year all is hectic trying to chose a theme and cover design, knowing that the goal is to make the book uniquely better than in years past, in addition to creating a special feeling to be carried throughout the entire book. This is only part of the job, the art of creating a yearbook consists of much more. On a typical day, you can find staff members organizing photographers to take the pictures they need, for the artistic, layouts they've drawn to complement the strangely wonderful copy just written.

And that's only for two of the 272 pages in the book. The job of a yearbook staff is to capture all the highlights of a school year in a special way, so that in ten years when one of Shadle's alumni opens the dusty yearbook of his senior year, all the memories return, like yesterday.

The Sporran staff of 1985 was undescribable as well as possitively indespensible. The staff was comprised of Shadle's most creative, zaney, talented and basic fun people. It was obvious in the start, that it would be a year set apart from others, with a welcome change of pace. Advisor Joyce Lykes outdid herself once again, by taking her chances and appointing Debi Cool and Jodi Lindley as Co-Editors to head the staff for the 1985 year. "I had never They've done a most outstanding job!", comments Mrs. Lykes on her decision. It isn't to be said that like any group working close together there weren't any problems, but working with the caliber of staff as it was this year the challenges were easily subdued. The other editor positions were held by some of the most talented people, Sports by Carmon Colon, Activities by Julie Franek, Teachers by Kelly Knutson, Seniors by Lisa Waterhouse, and Anna Johnston, Juniors by Cheryl Eckerl, Sophomores by Laura Winkeimer, Freshmen by Kristen Schuth and Michelle Deranleau, and Copy by Susan Jacobs. Each and every staff member was an asset to the book and it never could have been put together without everyone's contributions. The excellence of the members was continuously displayed throughout the year, and they should be congradulated on a tough job well done.

Varsity Cheerleaders: Highlanders Key to Spirit and Pride

The ten Varsity Cheerleaders are an invaluable asset to Shadle Park. These vivacious girls, Nicole Annis, Lori Eggelhoffer, Lisa Lowther, Diane Doughton, Lisa Morgenroth, Shelli Bumgarner, Stephanie King, Raschelle Rohrback, Michele Costigan and Jolene Hartnet, form the backbone of the Highlander spirit and tradition.

Their year begins with a summer camp. While there, they learn new routines, meet other cheerleaders from around the state, and share ideas, which they bring back to Shadle with in an effort to promote spirit.

The Cheerleaders dedication shows clear in the amount of time they designate to cheering. Hours a day are spent practicing, choreographing, and performing. They set goals for themselves, and strive to achieve them each and every day. One such goal is keeping up with their schoolwork, which they seem to have accomplished exceedingly well. Of the ten Varsity Cheerleaders, are 4.0 students and 2 have achieved Honor Roll status.

There are many superior qualities in these girls. They aren't just the stereotypical cheerleaders who look good in short skirts. They are talented, dedicated, lively, friendly, and of exceptional character. The Varsity Cheerleaders supplied the spirit for all the games, and stuck with us whether we won or lost, showing us the true meaning of pride.

J.V. Cheerleading

This year's JV Cheerleaders, Christie Leapley, Christie Herzog, Debbie Galindo, Shelley McInerney, Kristi Congrove, did an outstanding job in helping support the Junior Varsity sports and helped to raise the spirit of the Highlanders. These 5 ambitious girls worked all summer perfecting new routines and cheers, and it showed in their performances at the football, basketball, and wrestling games. They deserve a lot of credit and appreciation for their hard work in supporting the JV and Frosh teams.

Stiving for

The boys' cross-country season was an exciting one. Shadle had 650 participating athletes, many of them newcomers to the program.

Under the direction of Mr. Page, the guys have had an excellent year. The season started with the seniors victory at the annual Highlander Invitational, a meet in which Shadle hosts all other GSL teams. Dave Sattler, an energetic and promising young athlete, ran away with 1st place in the sophomore portion of the race.

Our Varsity boys took a strong AAA 3rd place at the Richland invitational with our Sophomores taking second in their race. This is a high caliber meet with teams participating from all over the state.

The Varsity team highlighted their season by placing Shadle runners in 1st and 2nd place in the District meet. Both Ben Brantl and Larry Seal went on to represent Shadle in the state meet. Brantl had an outstanding meet, coming in 1st place out of Spokane League runners and 28th overall. Seal did well with a 51st overall placing.

Shadle's Frosh boys topped off their season by winning the Mead Invitational which is a strictly Freshman meet. They placed seven athletes in the top twelve, with six schools competing. Out of the two years the Mead Invitational has been run, Shadle Frosh have come away with the first place trophy BOTH times!

Dave Sattler, Ben Brantl, and Larry Seal formed the back bone of Shadle's Cross-Country team. They consistantly placed in the top five runners of the various meets. One such time was in a GSL meet held here at Shadle against Rogers and G. Prep, in which Brantl and Seal strutted their stuff with a 1st and 2nd place victory respectively.

Girls race

The very talented and strong girls' Cross-Country Team made sure they made a strong and lasting impression in the minds of their competitors. The girls didn't place as high in their individual's meets as expected but this didn't affect their overall performances. It's a grueling, demanding sport and the girls gave it their all.

The team's most inspirational runner was Karen Harbert and the most valuable runner was Laura Parker. The girls showed that Shadle's spirit never dies by reaching deep inside themselves and pushing to achieve excellence.

MOST VALUABLE AND MOST INSPIRATIONAL runners Laura Parker and Karen Harbert.

A building year

Varsity football has always had much support from the Shadle fans, and this year was no exception. When the players entered the field, they knew, win, lose, or tie, the Highlander spirit was behind them. We had somewhat of a young team and although we ended the season 3-5, next year's prospects look hopeful. The team started the season off right with a victory over Central Valley 10-0. The following games proved to be a challenge against very competitive teams.

We played well against Coeurd Alene Prep, and Mead although it was not revealed in the scores. Injuries plagued several key players including Dave Bruketta, Dave Rypien, and Scott Stevens.

We ended the season with a strong finish and a more experienced team. Next year when the team walks on the playing field, their goals will be set on a winning season.

COACH HANEY: We played, we had fun, we improved.

COACH BAILEY: The stars were in the seniors, but the depth is in the juniors.

COACH BROWN: IT was a good rebuilding year.

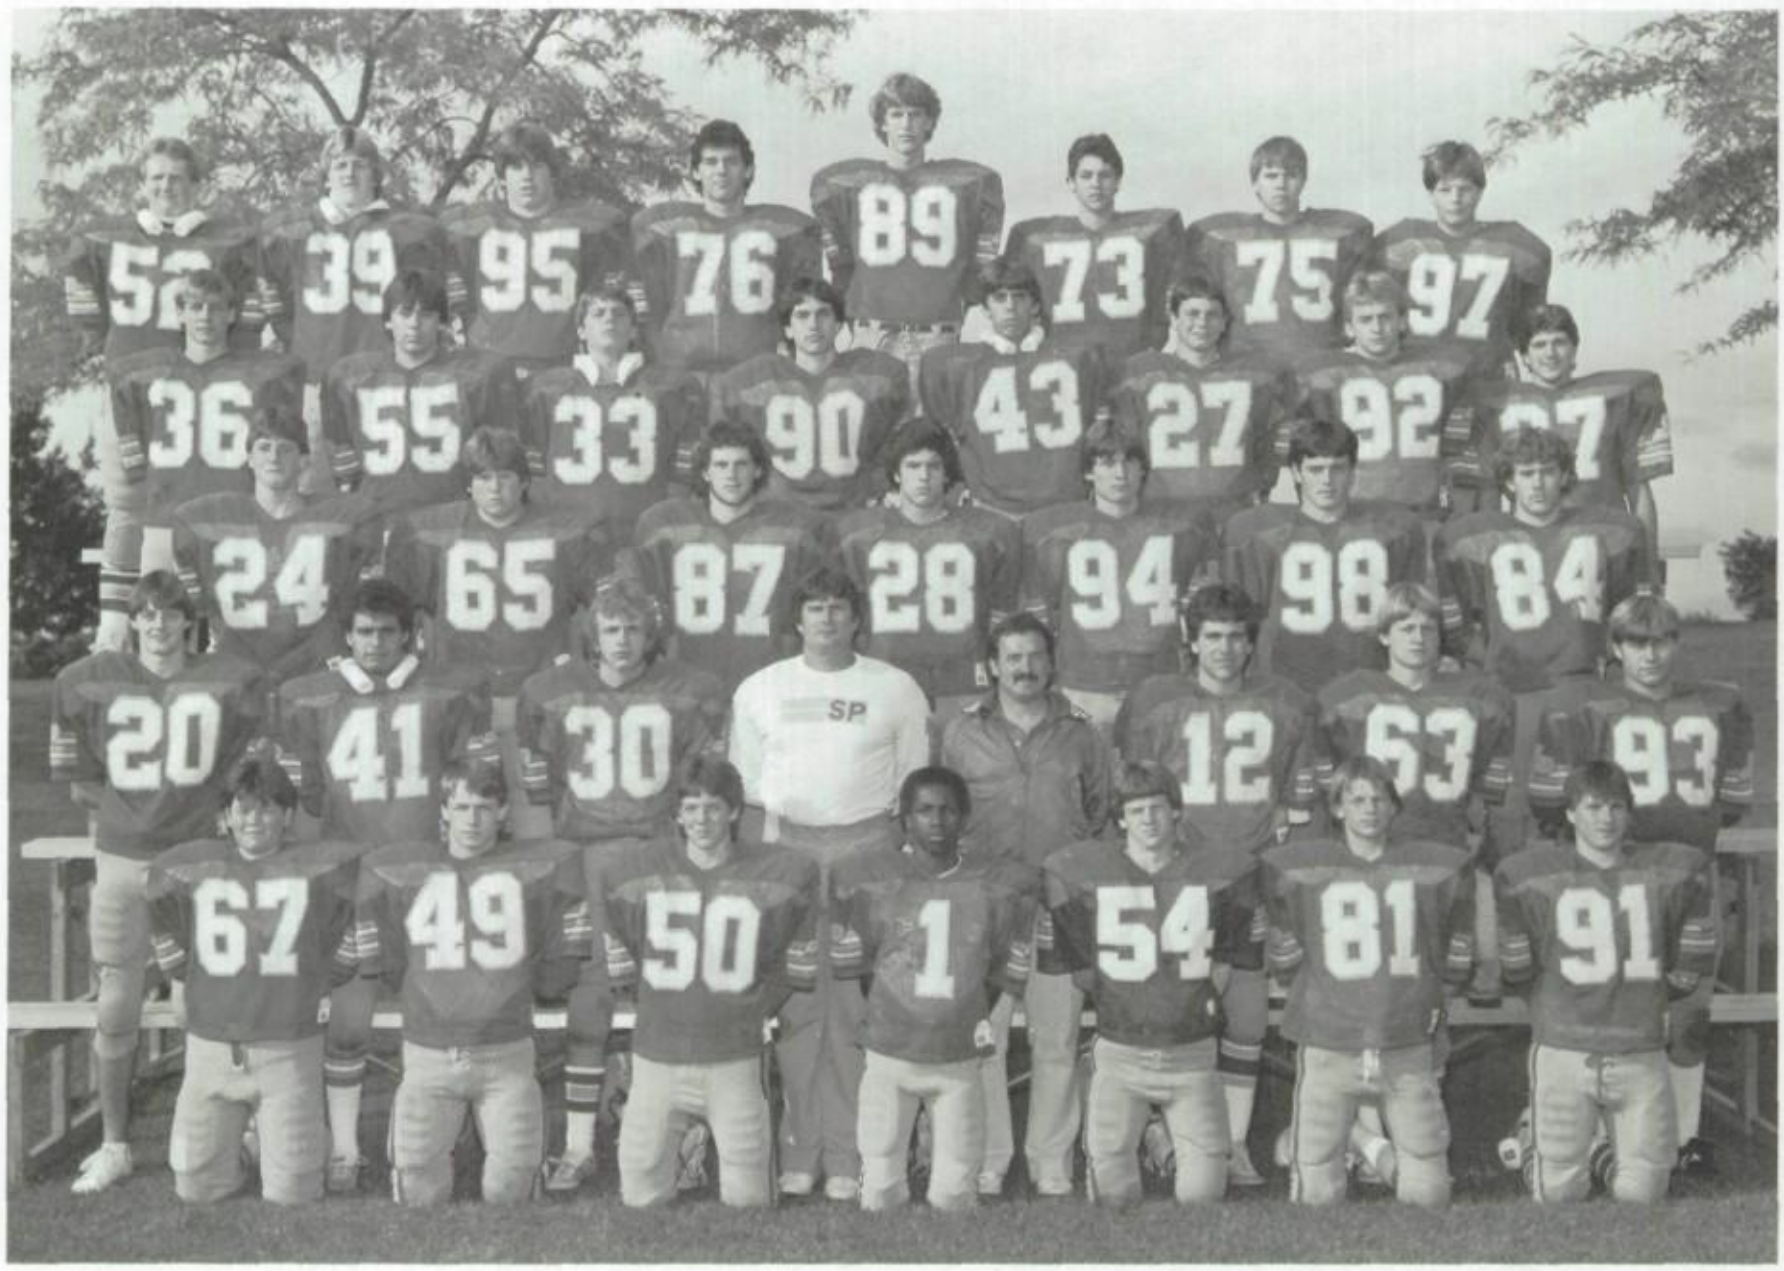
JV & frosh show determination



The Junior Varsity football team ended their season this year with a 2-6 record. Coach Close felt the team started off the season not really knowing how to win or what it takes to prepare themselves to win. Once the team decided that if they put for the effort and worked to win they would succeed, they played well. During the course of the season the team discovered that winning doesn't happen just because you want it to, but it happens because you work hard and earn your win. Some games the team felt were really special were the Rogers and L.C. games. Against Rogers they hung in there, played their hardest and lost only by a few points to the team that eventually took the league. The L.C. win on a touchdown scored on the last play of the game by Steve Kolhoff made this game quite memorable.

Shadle's frosh football team gave great new expectations to the coaches for the oncoming years. The young Highlander team consisted of many talented players. Coach Poffenroth feels that with a little hard work they could become one of the best teams in the league. The young Highlander team had many stars and the word has it that they may be playing at the varsity level providing they keep maturing both in skills and physically. Thanks to the freshman coaching staff this year's team will always be pushed to their full potential.

Girls' soccer:

This year's girls' soccer team had what many people would call one of their tougher seasons. The scrappy Highlander squad was up against some of the most outstanding teams in the league from the beginning of the season. This didn't stop the persistent Scotties though, they bounced back and held their heads up to show that Shadle spirit.

Since girls' soccer became a G.S.L. sport the team has been coached by Tonya Wollaston and Tania Paige. This fighting Highlander team has great expectations for the oncoming seasons and hope to make this program even stronger and more successful.

The Varsity Volleyball team had high goals at the beginning of the season which should have been expected with the abundance of talent they had as a team. When the mighty Highlander team would come out on the court before a game they let off an energy so powerful that it electrified the gymnasium and the fans. The warm-up tape would begin to play, "THERE'S NO STOPPING US:" this song's title became the belief of the team. This year's fighting Highlander squad went undefeated during non-league and league play and this gave them a birth to the district play-offs where Shadle triumphed again. The mighty Highlanders would go into the state finals as first seed. Once again Head Coach Linda Sheridan and her varsity volleyball team would take a trip to the coast to the other competitors that Shadle meant business and that is exactly what they did. They defeated every team that crossed their path. The night of the State AAA Championship gme the mighty Highlanders went up against Kentwood High School and with their short set and jump serve they left Kentwood in a cloud of dust in just two short games. The scores were 15-12 and 15-6. The Shadle Park varsity became the new 1984 State Champions.

Coached by Bob Isitt, the freshman volleyball team carried on a tradition of the past three years, the mighty Highlander team were the league champions once again due to fast footwork and an enormous amount of skill.

The strength of this team lies mainly in the hands of Stefani Asan, Molly Fitzgerald, and Shannon Rypien.

If this team maintains the strength they've shown on the court, they will add to the continuing success of Shadle Park's volleyball program.

With the help of Coach Judy Wareham and players like Shannon Horn and Michelle Kinney the team practiced and played at the Varsity level and played exceptionally well at that.

Many people felt that this team could have easily played on the Varsity level and these girls play this will next year on the Varsity team Shadle will easily be a natural for the state championship once again next year.

This year's team was 3-13 even though their record wasn't impressive their improvement was. This year's league was one of the toughest it has been in years. Many juniors and sophomores gained much needed experience. Our team was young and head coach Jim Groves did an impressive job. That experience gained will carry on next year. Some of the outstanding players were Kyle Davis, who was one of the leading scorers for the Highlanders and Steve Redmond who was one of the city's best guards. Other standouts were Don Santos and Brian Smelcer who really came through when needed.

Our J.V. team this year had a record of 9-7 in the league which put them in 5th place, and 10-10 overall. As everyone knows the J.V. team is the seed of the upcoming Varsity team. This year's team showed much talent. The leading scorer was the post Eric Moeller with 224, Leading Guard was John Howlett with 155 points. Other leading scorers were Jim Shoemaker with 139 and Russ Grimmer with 122. If the J.V. teams are really a reflection of how Varsity teams will be in the future, things look pretty good.

This year's freshman team had a great season, they were 10-4 in league and 3rd in the city. This year was Jack Robertson's first year coaching here at Shadle, and he did a great job. High scorer for the highlanders was Chris Schmidt, leading rebounder was Brent Kyle and most Inspirational was Terrance Kinlow.

This year's Girls' Basketball team combined experience and talent to make a winning formula. Under the excellent coaching of Linda Sheridan the team finished 3rd in the GSL with a 12-4 league record and a 15-7 overall record and also competed in the district play-offs. The team's depth lie in Julie Brunette who won MVP honors, Tracie Kisro who was leading scorer and rebounder and was chosen 1st team all-city. Beth Raymond was chosen 2nd team all-city, and Carmon Colon was voted Most Inspirational.

The team had many returning players so future teams will also be strong. "We were rich in talent and each girl played with intensity helping to propel them to the top," Head Coach Linda Sheridan remarked," This season had its ups and downs — thrills and frustrations but we ended our season with one of the finest comebacks in the history of Shadle. I'm very proud of this team."

Each game was exciting and action packed. The team's spirit and enthusiasm was always high. If this year is an indication of things to come, Shadle Park will continue to be a major force in girls' basketball.

Reaching for the top

Row 1: Katie Wagner, Vicki Day, Kara Roberts, Annette McMichaels, Lisa Boni, Jeanne Hoffman. Row 2: Coach Randy Lothspeich, Colleen Finney, Jennifer Carver, Shelly Piper, Crissy Stohs, Kelly Fitzgerald, Amy McDowell, Jan Zurfluh.

KELLY FITZGERALD punishes Ferris at the free throw line.

This year's Junior Varsity Basketball team took an impressive first place in city league standings. The girls were led by a new coach Randy Lothspiech.

The girls showed that they were a very strong team with little help from their fast break. This made the other teams run harder and by the beginning of the fourth quarter the opponents were ready to throw in the towel. The Highlander girls led by Crissy Stohs who showed her guts-out determination for winning in very game. The talent and aggressiveness of the girls gave them a 19-1 win loss record.

The great amount of talent shown in this year's group of athletes will definitely make Shadle a big threat in the years to come.

CRISSY STOHS prepares to make a move to make an assist.

For the past four years coach Isitt has coached four top notch teams to either city championships or 2nd place in the league standings. This year the girls were full of enthusiasm and energy which helped them in conquering some of their bigger battles. Coach Isitt feels that the team needs a little work on their defense and press breakers and with this improvement they could become one of the better teams in the city or state in upcoming years.

With the superb coaching of Bob Isitt his teams have become recognized as the great threat in the league and for those girls who continue in the sport he has helped to enhance and better develop their talents as basketball players. Congratulations coach Isitt on your four terrific years of successful coaching.

VICKI DAY shows her free throw shooting technique.

1. SHADLES VARSITY GYMNASTICS captured second place at districts

2. ANGELA HILL vaulting over her competition.

Shadle's Gymnastics team proved to be strong this year, finishing second in G.S.L. Despite injuries among the team, the girls ended their season witha 6-1 record, with their only loss to North Central. Teamwork, determination and support from each other helped send nine girls to districts. Karen Smith, Angela Hill, Audrie Tarr, Lynette Spiers, Kim McDonnal, Lisa Sheeks, Angie Sandbak, Wendy Campbell and April Brunette exhibited fine performances earning a well deserved second place finish. Senior Karen Smith and freshman Wendy Campbell deservingly earned a birth for themselves at the state meet. Next year's team is expected to be one of the stronger teams in the G.S.L., due to a young and upcoming talented team.

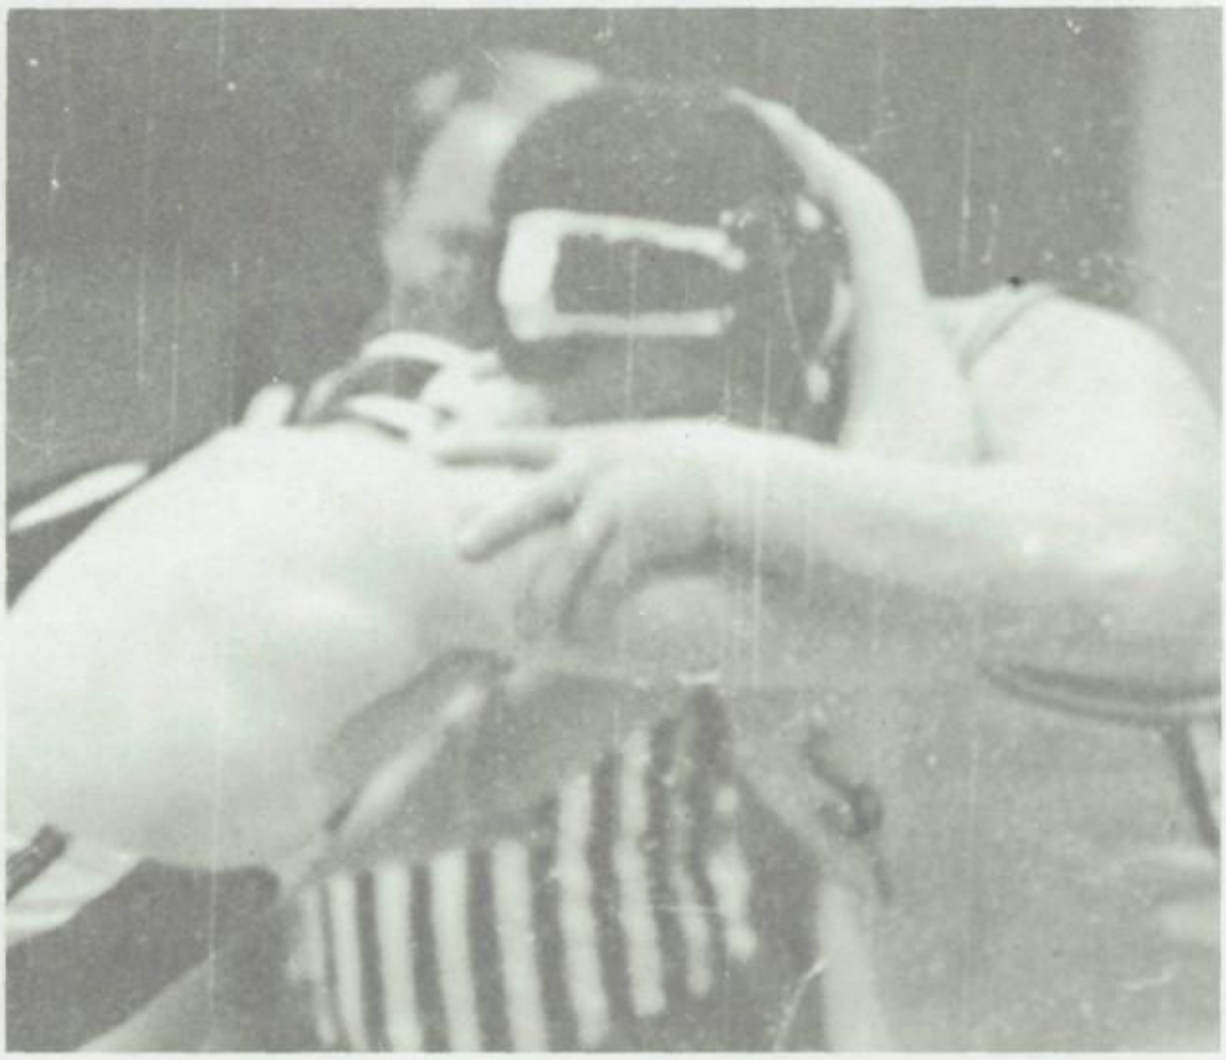
ANOTHER WIN for Shadle's John McVey.

COACH CLOSE watches his men intensely.

SAY UNCLE.

JOE TURMAN locks up with his opponent.



The Varsity Wrestling squad had a successful season. Their 2-6 league record didn't show it though. The team felt that they had 3 outstanding meets which were the Colville Tournament in which Shadle placed first out of eight teams, the N.C. and Ferris matches which Shadle beat both opponents by a spread of 25 and 32 points respectively.

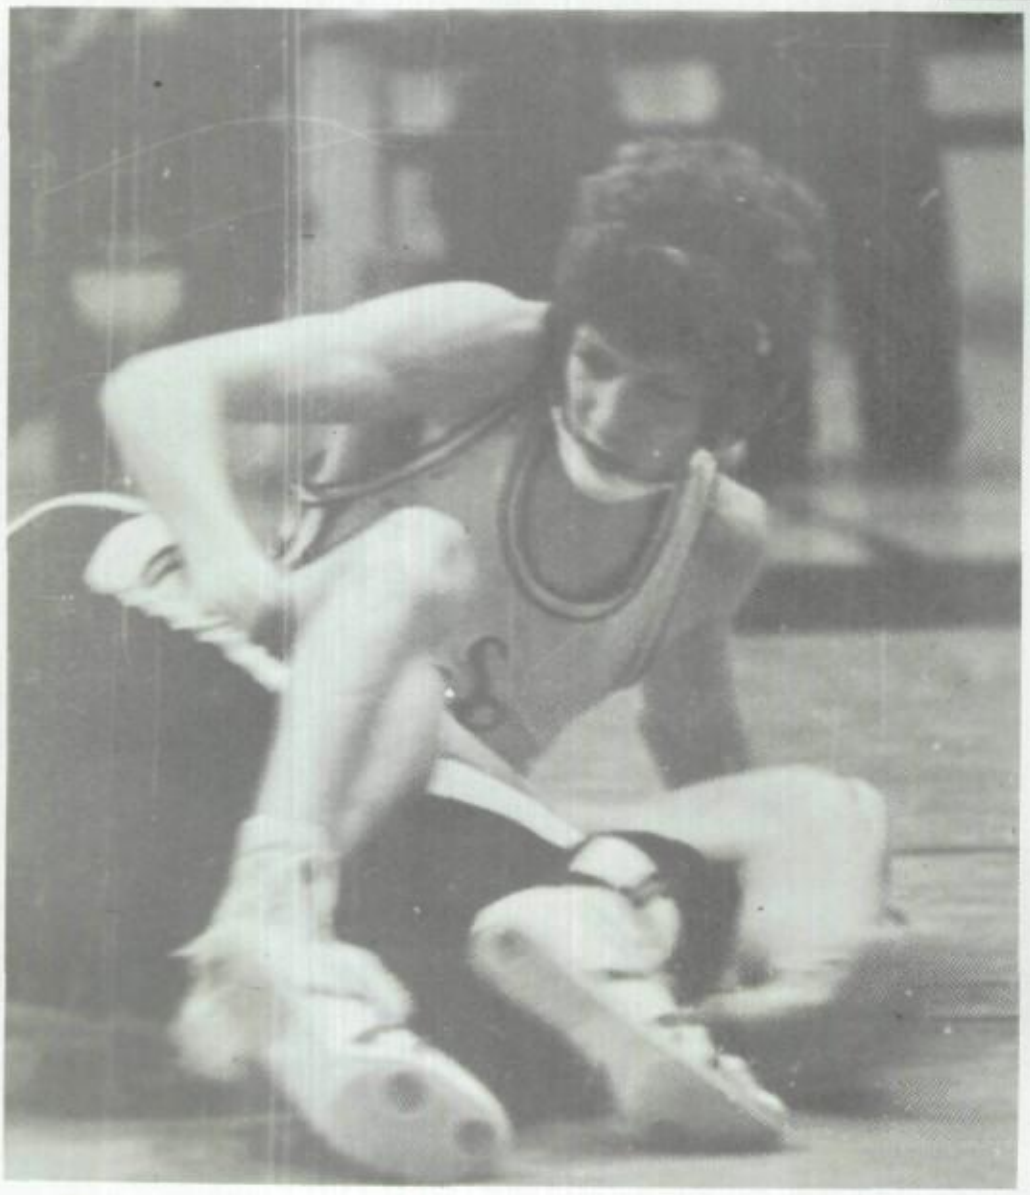
Shadle's team sent three men to Districts where Tim Potts and Don Sciascia placed 4th and Jon McVey placed 3rd giving them all a chance to compete at the state tournament.

The team looks strong for next year and hopes to have a great deal of successes in the upcoming year.

The wrestlers voted Mike Patterson Most Inspirational.

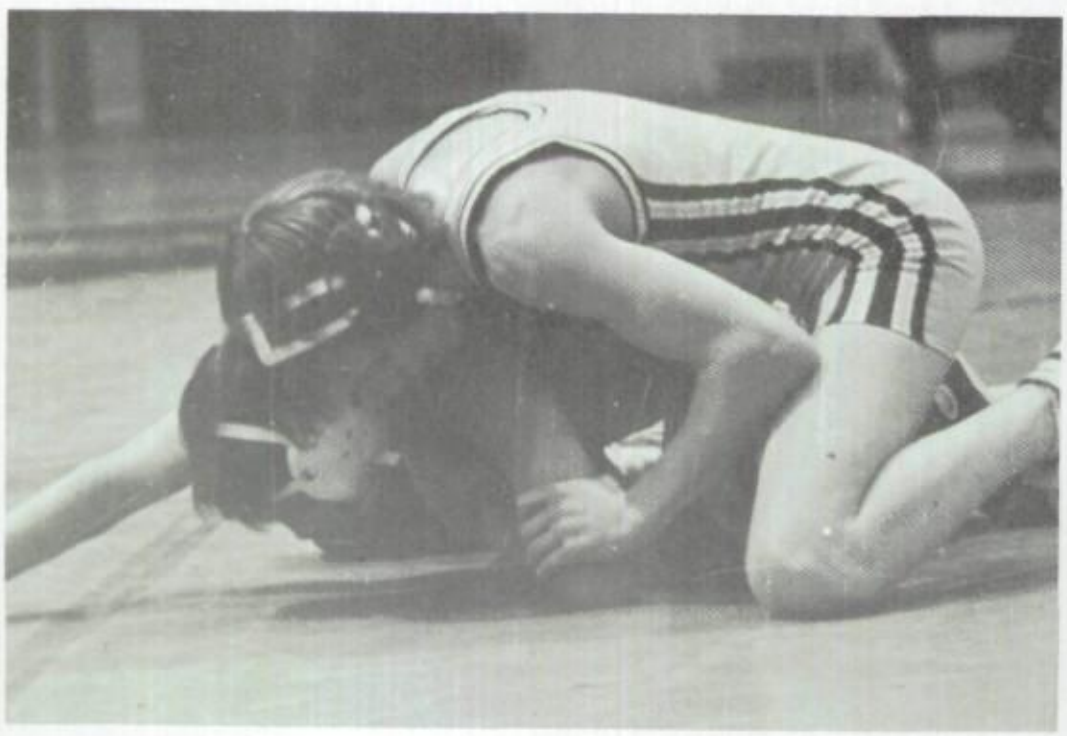
TIM POTTS struggles for a win.

LET ME whisper in your ear.



TEAMMATES watch enthusiastically.

MIKE PATTERSON receives a little confidence.



Frosh Wrestling

Row 1: Eric Hendren, Mark Bankey, Todd Bender, Steve Bockner, Dan Morrison, Bill Fulton, Adam Kick. Row 2: Tim Kendle, Dan Coe, Ron Barber, Alex Sharp, Ken Houston.

The past season should truly be remembered. Their record of 6-3 in the league made them a definite threat to the other schools. The captain for the wrestlers was Ron Barber, who at the district meet took an impressive first place along with teammate Alex Sharp. Coach Close stated that the only reason they lost the meets they did was because many of the wrestlers had to sit out due to injuries.

The freshman squad sent six men to districts and all of them placed in the top five places for their weight class. Bill Fulton, Scott Swanger, Tim Kendall and Mark Bankey all placed fourth in their weight class.

Academics

Do you remember when you needed assistance with a schedule that assigned you to Auto Mechanics for four periods on one day? Or you were helped just before you passed out of embarrassment because you dropped your lunch just upon paying for it?

Who was there for you? Not Mom or Dad. Yes, it was our staff members. As you look back five or perhaps ten years from now, you will more than likely not remember spilling your lunch. But you will remember those who seemed to always be there with a new solution to make things better.

This staff is truly unique. How many times do you see or hear of a school in which a teacher can teach, and carry on a traditional cheer such as "Chickalocka" for more than 10 years? Or a teacher who can find the humorous side of waking up to see that students have pitched tents, and camped out on their front lawn?

Not too many schools have this special type of bond between staff and student body that creates this kind of excitement. We are privileged to be able to say that we are truly proud of our faculty members. The faculty forms our school foundation. They help us to come together to create a great abundance of SHADLE SPIRIT . . .

To the Class of 85' –

The last four years have been great. Now, I watch you walk away from Shadle and into another aspect of your lives. How important it is that you make the most of each day and never take a moment for granted – "life" (yours and those you touch) is precious!!!

Remember to dwell on the good times and concentrate on your personal wins. Life can be challenging and "if at first you don't succeed . . . you have plenty of company." Don't be afraid!! Keep trying!! Always keep trying. "To get profit without risk, experience without danger, and reward without work, is as impossible as it is to live without being born." Work hard and strive to be happy.

Have a great life – and thanks for letting me share one important part of it.

Love, Mrs. B

Going to McDonald's® is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, the have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats.

You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's,

Nobody can do it

Follow your dream,
take one step at a time,
don't settle for less —
just continue to climb.

Follow your dream,
if you stumble, don't stop —
keep your eye on your goal —
Press on to the top,

For only on top can we see the whole view can we see what we've done
what we can do,
can we then have the vision to seek something new!

PRESS ON . . .
and follow your dream!

Love, Mrs. B

There comes a time in the life of every Highlander when they must say good-bye to the past and welcome the future. Our past four years at Shadle have been filled with many memories, challenges, and achievements, a security many find hard to leave, but the future holds so much more. The yearbook staff, as well as myself hopes that when you open this yearbook ten years later you will feel the same thrill and pride at being a Highlander, and it will fill your mind with memories long since forgotten.

I'd like to thank Mrs. Lykes and my co-editor Jodi for making this yearbook and the long hours it took to complete it very special to me. This was the best staff I've ever seen. Thank you also to my family for all their strength and encouragement.

I wish for each Senior the every best that life has to offer. May each of you become everything you want to be.

Debi Cool
Editor-in-Chief

At the long awaited conclusion of one's high school experience, there is often an extreme amount of excitement and anticipation. At this time the significance of this time spent in school goes unnoticed.

The Sporran staff hopes this yearbook will help re-capture those special memories and accomplishments. This yearbook and my position has been the greatest learning and growing experience in high school. I would like to thank my Co-Editor Debi & the remarkable staff for all their hard work and dedication. Most of all I'd like to thank the one who made it all worthwhile; Our Advisor and friend Mrs. Lykes. She allowed us the chance to excel individually as well as a staff, giving everyone confidence and support.

When I open this yearbook it will remind me of the love and appreciation I hold for these people I had the opportunity to work so closely with. Thank you again for making my years at Shadle the best!
